Crowds Give Nixon Hugging Reception

... Siberian City Turns Out Strong

Novosibirsk, Soviet Union (AP)—Vice President Richard Nixon was hugged and cheered by enthusiastic crowds in this western Siberian city Tuesday. It was the warmest reception of his Soviet tour.

About 20,000 applauding and cheering Russians greeted Nixon and his wife as they arrived in this important factory city of 880,000. Other thousands lined the streets. Soviet security agents had to struggle to prevent his being mobbed by friendly crowds.

Another crowd of 1,500 waited impatiently for 4 hours at the theater Tuesday night where the Nixons attended a ballet performance of "Swan Lake."

The crowd burst into cheers when the Vice President appeared on the front steps between the second and third acts.

Zhukov Worried
Georgi A. Zhukov, chairman of the Soviet Union Cultural Committee, said he was afraid the enthusiasm of the crowd would get out of hand.

"I was afraid he was going to be hurt by a bear hug," said Zhukov. "But they were hugs of friendship."

Several times, Nixon called Novosibirsk, a city 1,750 miles east of Moscow, the "Chicago of Siberia." He told the people he felt much at home here.

Asks Look-See
The Vice President, one of the few Americans to visit Novosibirsk since it was closed to foreigners years ago, prevailed upon the Russians to show him their new secret new science center while here.

The vice president passed hundreds of log cabins, resembling those of American pioneer days, on a 15-mile drive from the airport. Then he visited a huge turbo-generator plant.

He stopped several times to talk to young workers, and frequently asked if they were studying at night school. Many said they were.

Nixon returns to Moscow Saturday and will speak to the Russian people on impressions from his 11-day stay.

Chats At Ballet
At the ballet performance Nixon roamed the corridors shaking hands with dozens of people.

"Do you like Siberia?" a young man asked.

"Da, Da (yes)," replied Nixon.

"We send greetings to the people of Chicago," said a man.

A middle-aged man in horn-rimmed spectacles shouted as Nixon passed, "Russia will catch up."

"It's good to have peaceful competition," Nixon replied.

Washington (AP)—The House Tuesday night tentatively approved a $3,186,500,000 foreign aid appropriation bill, nearly 1 1/4 billion dollars less than President Eisenhower recommended.

A formal roll call was put off until Wednesday, but agreement was recorded on the totals.

Supporters of the President's program argued the deep cuts, especially in military aid, endanger this country's over-all defense position. But they left to the Senate, where the bill now goes, and to future Senate-House negotiations, any action to restore parts of the reduction.

More Slashes Blocked
Backers of the President concentrated instead, and successfully, in parrying more slashes.

Defeated by voice vote were amendments to reduce the development loan fund by 50 million dollars, the President's contingency fund by 55 million and administrative funds by $198,700.

Working into the night, the House agreed on all provisions of the bill, but put off a formal roll call at the insistence of Rep. Clare E. Hoffman (R-Mich.), an opponent of the measure.

The House adopted an amendment requiring foreign aid officials to give information on demand to congressional committees or the General Accounting Office, Congress' accounting arm.

It also adopted, 88-38, an amendment knocking out of the bill a special earmarking of 50 million dollars economic defense support for Spain. This change did not reduce the amount of the appropriation, but left officials free to set the amount of the allocation to Spain—now scheduled to be 40 million dollars.

Other amendments adopted would:

Require that domestic standards of feasibility be applied to projects abroad financed under the bill.

Sanction use of 10 million dollars of the total for special aid to refugee groups during World Refugee Year.

As the House debated the bill, Rep. Gerald R. Ford Jr., (R-Mich.) spoke out especially against the 300 million dollar cut in military aid. Eisenhower asked for $1,600,000,000 and Congress authorized $1,440,000,000 but the appropriations committee set the figure in its actual money bill at $1,300,000,000.

Nike Site Go-Ahead Bill Out Of Committee

A bill authorizing construction of the Lincoln and Omaha Nike-Hercules missile bases was reported out of a Senate-House conference committee Tuesday afternoon.

The bill provides for military construction and maintenance which would cost $1,225,485,000. It must now pass both the House and Senate before it becomes law.

Washington sources pointed out that the bill only authorizes construction. A later bill is needed to appropriate money for the bases and construction cannot begin until then.

The House had earlier voted to authorize expenditure of $1,252,608,000. The Senate cut this total to $1,211,480,000. The administration had requested $1,356,290,000.

Washington sources described the bill as a compromise measure, skirting charges that the Nike and a companion missile, the Bomarc, were obsolete and ineffective.

The Nike had been under fire in the Senate while the House had questioned the worth of the Bomarc. Both weapons are of the ground-to-air type designed to knock down enemy planes.

Representative Phil Weaver (Rep-1st) said he was sure that the Lincoln and Omaha bases would be constructed. "Some time ago, I said that with the overall defense setup as it is the Nike bases would be retained," Weaver told the Star.

Informed sources in Washington said that 15 Nike bases would be built under the committee's compromise bill.

The bill also included $164,000 for Lincoln Air Base maintenance, $1,802,000 for operational and maintenance at Offutt Air Base in Omaha and $450,000 for a National Guard armory and training facility in Omaha.

Work Could Begin On Short Notice

Construction on Lincoln and Omaha Nike bases could begin within twelve days after the Omaha Army Engineers are officially notified by Washington to go ahead, an Army Engineers source said Tuesday.

However, the spokesman emphasized that no contract can be awarded until official notification is received and no such notification has yet come from the Chief of Army Engineers in Washington.

The Air Force previously announced that Lincoln and Omaha would each have two batteries of the Nike-Hercules type missile. The two sites in the Lincoln area are at Berks and Agnew.

Democrats Lead In Hawaii Vote

Honolulu (AP)—Democrats surged to an early lead Tuesday night in Hawaii's first state election.

But a Republican cut into the initial Democratic march and took a front-running position in a race for one of Hawaii's two U.S. Senate seats.

Early unofficial returns, if maintained, pointed to the election of two candidates of Asian ancestry to the U.S. Congress.

They are Democrat Daniel K. Inouye, Japanese-American war hero who leaped to a runaway lead in the race for Hawaii's lone seat in the U.S. House of Representatives, and Republican Hiram L. Fong, millionaire Chinese-American businessman who led in a close contest for one Senate seat.

Democrat John A. Burns took a narrow lead over Republican William F. Quinn in the contest for the first elected governor of the island chain.

Leads Ticket
Inouye, a lawyer and territorial senator, led his own Democratic ticket in the initial returns.

In running for Hawaii's lone House seat, he was the youngest candidate to seek major office here.

Inouye lost his right arm in World War II combat while serving with the famed "Go For Broke" 442nd Central Postal Directory Battalion of Americans of Japanese descent.

For the other Senate seat, veteran Democratic politician and former Hawaii Governor Oren E. Long took a slim lead over Republican Wilfred C. Tsukiyama, dean of Hawaii's politicians of Japanese stock.

Newscast Bill OK'd By Senate

Washington (AP)—The Senate Tuesday passed a bill to meet a threat that political candidates and next year's national conventions might be kept off radio and television news shows.

The measure would exempt such shows — but not panel discussions — from a requirement that they give equal air time to all political candidates. A voice vote sent the bill to the House for action.

A provision was written in first that stations and networks must attempt to present fairly all sides of questions of political controversy even though they no longer would face the equal time restriction as to newscasts.

The legislation was designed to set aside a ruling by the Federal Communications Commission on a law which says all legally qualified candidates for a public office shall have equal access to radio-TV time.

This, up to 1959, had generally been taken to mean political speeches rather than news shows.

W. Berlin Gleaming Pearl Set In Red Drabness—Lincolmites

(Lincoln Star Special)

West Berlin—A group of touring Lincolmites had the privilege of seeing first-hand the condition of East Germans living behind the Iron Curtain.

After nearly a day-long tour of East Berlin, the Lincoln group returned to bustling West Berlin with the feeling they had just left a ghost town.

The Lincolmites, now on a trip which includes visits to Communist Czechoslovakia and Russia, are: Houghton Furr, Dr. Richard Marshall, J. Phillip Mahoney, John Zimmer, Jr., George Frampton and Jack Bates.

The contrast between West and East Berlin has been noted many times, but this group felt that the contrast has not been sufficiently impressed on many Americans who do not realize that West Berlin is a living example, behind the Iron Curtain, of the power of free initiative to create out of ruin a beautiful new city. Just a few blocks away a Communist regime has labored mightily to accomplish the same thing with a conspicuous lack of success.

In East Berlin, the Lincoln group saw the Communist showcase street, Stalinallee. This is a street of new buildings and shops, but there was little traffic for the main street of a city of 1,250,000, and few of the rather poorly dressed people seem to be buying anything.

A glimpse down any side street from Stalinallee reveals evidence of the Communist failure with the ruins of bombed and burned buildings still standing untouched 14 years after the end of World War II. There are still evidences of the terrific bombing in West Berlin, too, but these are comparatively few and the energetic West Berliners are well on the way to obliterating these traces.

West Berlin streets are alive with traffic and pedestrians. In East Berlin the typical street has almost no traffic and sometimes the green-uniformed East German police outnumber the pedestrians.

After the tour of East Berlin, which included a stop at a rather impressive Russian military cemetery, the Lincoln group visited an area where the shops are large and well-stocked, the people happy and well-dressed, and where modern progress is the order of the day, not false fronts to mask the dreariness of existence behind the Iron Curtain.

The group was also unanimous in emphasizing that West Berlin, a bright example of free enterprise 100 miles inside the Iron Curtain, must be held by the West and that its citizens who have accomplished the impossible rebuilding their destroyed city must not be deprived of the fruits of their years of labor.

This viewpoint was reinforced when, a little later in the day, the Lincolmites visited the Marienfelde refugee camp in West Berlin, the largest reception area in Germany for those fleeing from the Communists.

There they were given a personal tour of the 60-acre camp by its director. He explained there are currently about 2,500 refugees in the camp and that new ones arrive at the rate of 200 to 300 a day.

The Lincoln group was allowed to talk with some of these refugees. One was a handsome red-haired lad of 20, a former member of the East German Army. He said he defected because he visited an aunt in West Berlin and knew he faced punishment upon returning. Another young man said he was forced to work in a plant firing a boiler in 140-degree heat and that the pay was the equivalent of 25 cents an hour.

These were a few impressions of a group of Lincoln businessmen who are now touring behind the Iron Curtain. They agreed that their appreciation of the value of their American citizenship has been vastly increased by their experience thus far.

Hike In RR Valuations Reaffirmed By Board

By Betty Person

The State Board of Equalization reaffirmed its earlier action on two controversial taxing measures Tuesday as it voted again to raise the valuation on railroads and cut the valuation on franchise assessments.

The final decision on the assessment matters came after an hour-long meeting marked with frequent humor and occasional sharp disagreement.

During Tuesday morning's session, Board members heard formal protests from the Burlington, Union Pacific, Chicago-Northwestern, and Missouri Pacific railroads requesting that their 1959 assessed valuations be reduced.

Tax Violation
The railroads stated their property has been assessed at a rate 25% higher than other property in the state and thus is taxed in violation of the constitution's uniformity clause.

There are strong indications the railroads may take their case to the Supreme Court for a final decision, and there was strong urging on the part of two Board members that the matter should be settled in court.

When the vote was taken, Gov. Ralph Brooks and State Treasurer Richard Larsen, both Democrats, voted as they had July 15.

Secretary of State Frank Marsh, a Republican, who

Appeal Likely

was absent when the original vote was taken, voted with Brooks and Larsen, "reluctantly," and with the "hope that by such action the railroads will seek relief in the courts."

Your Baby

State Auditor Ray C. Johnson changed from his previous dissent and voted with the other Board members, commenting, "Governor, this is your baby and I'll vote unanimously on this motion."

Johnson said he was "convinced" that the change first proposed to the Board this year, which would have brought a $26 million reduction to the 11 railroads doing business in Nebraska, was the "truest value" arrived at for railroads in the 20 years he has served on the Board.

He said he would not vote for the increase except that he was sure that such action would take the matter to court.

MR. CHARLES FROST

Charles Frost, Prominent Mason, Dies

Charles W. Frost, retired superintendent of mails at the Lincoln Post Office and a familiar figure in Masonic circles, died Tuesday. He was 78.

A member of Lincoln Lodge 19, AF&AM, Mr. Frost was a past master of the lodge, and a member and past patron of Electa Chapter, OES.

Mr. Frost was a former almoner of the Scottish Rite bodies of Lincoln, and a member Scottish Rite and Shrine. He was a thirty-third degree Mason.

He was also a member of Trinity Methodist Church and the Hiram Club of Lincoln.

Surviving are daughters, Miss Ruth Frost and Mrs. Gracey Jenks, both of Lincoln; a son, Gerald O. of Monterey Park, Calif.; sisters, Mrs. Lucille Strain and Mrs. Gracey Miller, both of Lincoln; and one granddaughter.

U.S. Steel Profits At All-Time High

STRIKERS ANGERED BY REPORT

Inflation Issue
Termed Phony

New York (AP) — A record half year of profits was reported Tuesday by the nation's biggest steel producer. This led to an angry denunciation of the industry by the striking United Steelworkers Union.

Union President David J. McDonald attacked the industry for what he described as its "phony inflation issue at a time when they are rolling in unprecedented wealth."

A steel spokesman said the industry is determined to hold its current price line—and he indicated that means a continued stand against any wage increase for 500,000 striking steelworkers.

Negotiations in the two-week old strike continued half-heartedly throughout the day, with federal mediators talking separately with both sides.

$254 Million Net

But the desultory peace talks were far outshadowed by the report from the U.S. Steel Corp. that its net income for the first 6 months of the year was $254,948,496—more than any steel company ever earned in a similar period.

In a related development, the steelworkers union and 3 major aluminum producing firms—Alcoa, Reynolds and Kaiser—agreed to extend their work contracts 30 days beyond the date of any settlement in the steel strike. Old contracts expire Friday night and a strike then had been threatened.

Some 30,000 employees of the aluminum—3 are seeking a 15 cents an hour wage and fringe benefit package—the same as the union's demand on the steel industry. Like the latter, the aluminum industry has voiced determination to stand on current wages.

BARUCH BACK FROM BRITAIN

New York (AP)—Elder statesman Bernard Baruch, 88, arrived aboard the Queen Elizabeth from Britain Tuesday and predicted peace would remain elusive for many years to come.

"We are going to be engaged for many, many years in getting peace," Baruch said. "It will be a prime problem for our children and our grandchildren."

During his 6 weeks in England, Baruch visited Sir Winston Churchill and dined with Prime Minister Harold Macmillan.

$25,000 Suit Filed For Crash Injuries

Donald McDonald of Lincoln filed a $25,000 damage suit Tuesday in Lancaster District Court against Donald and Robert Kremer, both of Milford.

McDonald alleges he suffered back injuries when the car he was driving was in collision with a truck driven by Donald Kremer and jointly owned by him and Robert Kremer. The mishap occurred 5 miles west of Lincoln on U.S. 6, July 17.

Atlas Shot Is Success

Cape Canaveral, Fla. (AP)—An Atlas intercontinental range ballistic missile thundered over the Atlantic Tuesday night on what informed sources reported was a highly successful test flight.

An informant called the shot "very good." The test was a critical one and marked the second straight success for this giant war weapon.

The launching appeared smooth as the fiery 85-foot missile ascended on the start of a 5,500-mile flight down the Atlantic missile range. It disappeared from sight after about 4 minutes.

This was a "D" series model—a prototype of the operational weapon the Air Force hopes soon to turn over to troops. All three "D" Atlases fired previously exploded shortly after launching.

An Atlas that logged a successful flight last week was an earlier, less powerful "C" model. That was the first good Atlas test in more than 5 months.

4-H Judging Team Honored In D.C.

Lancaster County's 4-H dairy cattle judging team was honored Tuesday at a fete in Washington, D.C.

The team placed 6th in the International Dairy Judging competition in Oxford, England.

Members of the team are Larry Axthelm, David Sandfort, John Musselman and Jon Lawritson, all of Lincoln. Lancaster County Agent, Cyril Bish, accompanied the team.

BUTLER, TRUMAN TALK PROSPECTS

Kansas City (AP)—Paul Butler, Democratic national chairman, said he had a general discussion of prospects for the 1960 election campaign with former President Harry S. Truman Tuesday.

The Democratic Party, Butler said, "has a wealth of talent and it will be a real task for the (convention) delegates to make a choice among them."

4-H's Tour Gavins Point, Fish In Lewis, Clark Lake

Lincoln Star Special
Gavins Point, Neb. — A large group of Lancaster County 4-H Club members toured massive Gavins Point dam here Tuesday and fished in Lewis and Clark Lake before returning to Ponca State Park for the night.

The delegation, led by Associate Lancaster County Agent Emory Nelson, is composed of 69 members of 8 Lancaster Conservation Clubs.

Gavins Point Dam, a large rolled earth structure straddling the Missouri River near Yankton, S.D. was constructed primarily to re-regulate fluctuating discharges from Ft. Randall Dam, next upstream project in a chain of reservoirs on the Missouri River.

The dam also provides flood control storage and generates 100,000 kilowatts of electrical power.

Thousands of fish roil the swift water near the dam's spillway.

Gene Miller of Norfolk, Neb., district superintendent of fisheries, said the fish, some ranging up to 4 or 5 ft. in length, gather at the spillway to feed on the fish that are killed and ground to bits as the pass through the generating blades. The fish can be seen fighting the tremendous water pressure and battling each other. Miller told the 4-H members that the fish also fight their way to the dam to gain oxygen produced by the boiling waters.

After returning to Ponca State Park, campsite for the 3 day tour, the state Game Commission showed films on fire arms safety and the establishment of productive farm ponds.

The tour winds up Wednesday when the 4-Hers return to Lincoln. It is sponsored by the Lancaster County Soil Conservation District and the Lincoln Junior Chamber of Commerce.

HIKE IN RR VALUATION AFFIRMED

publican abstained from voting Tuesday as he had July 15 after stating he opposed the "political overtones" of the railroad assessments.

When it came to the reconsideration on franchise values requested by Gov. Brooks, the Board split along political lines with the 3 Republican members voting to keep the 35% assessment figures adopted last Friday, and the Democratic members reversing themselves and voting against it.

By this action, the Board cuts some $1 million off the assessed valuation of franchises on telephone companies, pipelines and gas companies.

Small Companies

Herrington again reminded the Board that the large majority of the companies against which the franchise tax is assessed are small telephone companies, approximately 150 in number.

The tax commissioner also noted again that a bill which would have repealed any franchise assessment was introduced in the 1959 Legislature by Sen. Terry Carpenter and supported by Herrington.

In other action, the Board voted unanimously to "split the difference" between railroad and assessor figures on railroad terminal valuations in Omaha.

The Board voted to accept the assessors' valuations on other terminal properties at some 20 communities over the state.

With all pending matters out of the way, the Board set late Thursday as the target date for setting the state levy.

Empty Fishing Boat Found Off California

San Francisco (AP)—The Seattle fishing boat Apple II was found circling aimlessly in the Pacific 140 miles west of Monterey Tuesday with no one on board.

The vessel normally carrying a crew of two, was found circling in tight turns at 4 knots with her nets out shortly after noon.

A Coast Guard plane found nothing.

Value Cuts In Property Reaffirmed

The State Board of Equalization Tuesday reaffirmed its acceptance of percentage cuts on some property in Lancaster County following letters of protest to the original action received from the County Assessors Association of Nebraska and the Southeast County Assessors Assn.

State Tax Commissioner Fred Herrington read to the Board the associations' letters in which they argued that the Lancaster Board's approval of a 15% cut in household goods, and a 10% cut in farm machinery and business schedules should not have been accepted by the state board.

They declared allowing such percentage cuts was contrary to the valuation agreements arrived at by all county assessors.

The Board noted that the agreements are not founded in law and are to be used as a guide.

Gage County had filed a formal protest against Lancaster County, but the Board had decided in favor of Lancaster.

Dockworkers OK Contract

San Francisco (AP)—Harry Bridges' longshoremen's union and the Pacific Maritime Assn. announced jointly Tuesday they had agreed on a 3-year contract. It would set up a $1½ million fund to offset the effects of automation and provide a wage increase up to 12½c per hour and other benefits.

The contract, covering 17,000 West Coast longshoremen, is believed to be the first in any such industry where the employers contributes to a fund to share with workers the benefits of labor-saving devices.

New County Paving Bids Reluctantly Okayed

By Del Harding

New paving bids on 4 Lancaster County paving projects were reluctantly approved Tuesday by the County Board.

The Board had rejected bids on the 4 projects June 23 and had readvertised because the bids received were nearly $49,000 over the estimated cost of $259,073.

The bids approved Tuesday totalled $302,858 and were $4,897 lower than the first bids.

Revised Estimate

County Engineer Louis Weaver said the new bids were only about $12,600 over revised estimates which were made on the 4 projects by the State Highway Dept. after the original bids were rejected. He recommended approval of the new bids.

County Board Chairman Rollin Bailey said he did not like to approve bids which were over the estimates, but he agreed with Weaver that the projects were necessary ones.

Involved is 4 miles of paving near Hickman, 2 miles near Denton, 1.1 miles near the Turnpike Ballroom and a half-mile extension on Lincoln's East A.

Abel and Dobson

Abel Construction Co., Dobson Bros. Construction Co. and the Missouri Valley Construction Co. bid on the 4 projects in the latest bidding.

Abel and Dobson Bros. each submitted the low bids on two of the projects, just as they had in the earlier bidding when they were the only two firms which submitted bids.

Weaver said the county might lose federal aid funds if the projects were not approved this year. He said Lancaster County has in past years received federal funds not used by other counties but that state officials now say this may not be possible in future years due to increasing use of the funds by the other counties.

Control Of City Rabbits Asked

Is Lincoln going to the rabbits? L. M. Culp of 2641 No. 40th thinks so and has appealed in a letter to the City Council for "proper protection and removal of this hazard."

"You have so successfully curbed the activity of dogs in our city," Culp wrote, "that now the rabbits are taking over."

Disgusted, But . . .

Culp admits he's been "somewhat disgusted when a bunch of dogs would collect around my place, but they never did half the damage to my garden and plants that rabbits have done this season."

In apparent reference to the city's leash law for dogs and strict enforcement this year, Culp said:

Next Year?

"When dogs were permitted to run around some, we did not have this trouble. At the rate rabbits multiply how many will we have next year?"

Culp asked the Council to "give us the proper protection (against rabbits) and see this hazard is removed."

Voc Ag Meet In Second Day

Howard Cowden, president of the Consumer's Coop. Assn., from Kansas City, Mo. and Dr. Duane Nielsen of Iowa State College will address the annual State Conference for Vocational Agriculture instructors Wednesday as the meet moves into its second day.

Also scheduled for the instructors is an afternoon tour of the University of Nebraska College of Agriculture and an evening banquet.

Tuesday 136 instructors registered for the 3-day conference and were welcomed to Lincoln by Mayor Pat Boyles.

Reports were presented to the group by Cecil Stanley, Glen Strain and Dr. Howard Deems at a noon luncheon. The Seward Future Farmers of America demonstration team featured the afternoon session, with a demonstrating program.

Seven voc-ag instructors were awarded certificates for 10-years of instruction.

Presented awards were: Harold Johns, Bassett; Duane Dunning, St. Paul; Warren Scoggin, Scottsbluff; Charles

Hasty, Bridgeport; Alfred Mathis, Kearney; Ronald Ganzel, Pawnee City and Leo Herdon, Battle Creek.

Murder Charge Now Is Faced By Gross, Former Gambler

Los Angeles (AP)—A more serious charge—murder—will be brought against a former New York gambler as the result of the death of his wife's grandfather Tuesday.

Harry Black, 81, died in the County Hospital. He had been hospitalized since June 27 when he suffered a beating and a gunshot wound in the neck.

At a preliminary hearing at his bedside, he testified that Harry Gross, 44, onetime Brooklyn bookie, attacked him during an argument over $2,000 Gross owed him. Gross told police that Black attacked him and a pistol was discharged during the scuffle.

Gross is still in jail in lieu of $20,000 bail on a charge of attempted murder.

He'll Get Bucks For Tribal Trick

Miami (UPI) — Jimmy Osceola grinned good-naturedly when friends joked that he had a license to scalp people.

Osceola, a 23-year-old full-blooded Seminole Indian, is the first member of his tribe to become a licensed barber.

Karachi, Pak'stan (AP) — About 50 persons were reported drowned when a large passenger boat capsized in the flooded Tawwai River about 600 miles north of Karachi.

Old Injury Fatal

LONDON (UPI) — A doctor testified that a 28-year-old Hungarian died of an injury received in the 1956 Budapest revolt. Dr. C. K. Simpson, a pathologist from the government's home office, said Laszlo Takacs died from a clot of blood caused by a thigh injury he suffered in the uprising nearly 3 years ago.

Council Action Uproots City Longevity Pay

By Virgil Falloon
In a surprising move Tuesday, the City Council killed the $5-per-month longevity pay plan for policemen and firemen by an unofficial majority move that apparently reversed unanimous approval given earlier to the $10.426 item in the proposed 1959-60 city budget.

Vice President C. W. D. Kinsey announced the Council's "reconsidered decision" on longevity pay following an informal noon luncheon attended by Council members and sparking considerable controversy.

Later in the day, Kinsey released another announcement that the Council would meet again at 8:30 a.m. Wednesday at City Hall.

Mayor Pat Boyles, who was not present at the meeting when the majority decision was made, said he "was definitely opposed to cutting the police-fire longevity pay from the budget."

Kinsey said the decision was based on these reasons: (1) a feeling that the $40 increase approved for all police and fire ranks was sufficient, (2) the longevity pay would be a burden on city finances, and (3) the longevity pay would be a "little unfair" to other city employees.

Acknowledged by Kinsey as participating in the majority action were Councilmen Al

DuTeau, Dell Tyrrell, Hugh Thorne and himself.

Lewis Not Present
Councilman Kenneth Lewis, who was not present at the meeting, said he was opposed to the move. "Longevity pay for police and fire ranks should be in the budget. I want to see it put back."

Councilwoman Helen Boosalis, who has suggested a "merit-type plan for in-rank pay increases," said she wants the longevity pay left in the budget unless another plan is approved.

During Monday night's budget session, the Council approved $40 per month increases for all police and fire ranks plus $5 per month for every 5 years of "service in rank" for a $15 maximum.

Following Tuesday's informal meeting which struck the longevity pay, Councilman DuTeau said that "some of us just feel we made a mistake last (Monday) night. It's better to make the change now than later."

Shaky About Others
Also commenting was Councilman Thorne: "We kind of got a little shaky about the other employees. Forty dollars is a pretty big slice for police and fire boosts. It's enough for now. We can consider longevity pay another year."

Both Police Chief Joe Carroll and Fire Chief Paul Feas-ter said they were sorry to learn that the Council had cut the longevity pay.

Earlier in the day, both reported "very favorable" reaction of the policemen and firemen to the Council's $40 and $50 plan.

"It's too bad the longevity was cut out," Feaster said. "It will be very disappointing to the majority. It was the recognition of service in the pay plan, rather than the money, that was most needed."

With the $10.500 longevity-pay item removed, the fire and police raises and the $25-a-month boost to 390 other city employees still totals some $24,000.

Even with the raises, perhaps the largest in the city's history, the unofficial levy estimate for the 1959-60 budget is still slightly less than last year's 16.6 mills or $16.60 per $1,000 valuation.

Mill For Airport
However, potentially facing the Lincoln taxpayers is a one mill levy that can be made by the newly-created City Airport Authority.

While the Authority is not expected to adopt a budget until early August, it is anticipated it will include tax fund requirements.

The Authority can require the city to levy for these requirements up to 1 mill under state law.

2 Injured, 5 Cars Hit In Crash

Two persons were treated for injuries and released Tuesday following a collision at 14th and H, in which 5 cars were damaged.

Treated at St. Elizabeth Hospital for a head injury and bruised ribs was Cecelia A. Augustyn, 59, of Grand Island. Ira J. Andersen, 29, of 6740 So. Bermuda Drive, was treated by a private physician for a broken blood vessel in his arm.

The car driven by Miss Augustyn, westbound on H, was in collision with Andersen's car going north on 14th.

The Augustyn vehicle careened from the impact into a car parked on 14th and owned by Jim P. Marshall of 625 N. So. 14th.

Two vehicles parked behind the Marshall car then absorbed the effect of the chain collision. They were owned by Stanley K. Brandt of Martell and Hazel C. Null of Pleasant.

Health Check In Nebraska Next Week

Regional U.S. Public Health Service representatives next week will inspect Nebraska medical facilities under construction or being planned.

Regional U.S.P.H.S. architectural director Robert Jackson of Kansas City will study plans for St. Elizabeth School of Nursing addition in Lincoln Monday. He will also study a similar addition at Methodist Hospital in Omaha, the rehabilitation center unit for Goodwill Industries of Omaha and Bryan Memorial Hospital's revised expansion and modernization plans.

All 4 projects have been approved for federal Hill-Burton funds which pay up to 40% of the costs of the projects.

The Health Service construction engineer, Fred Mackey, is already in Nebraska. Before his return to Kansas City Friday he will have inspected facilities at the new Cambridge hospital, an addition to the Imperial hospital, and the Sidney hospital long-term care addition, also the addition to Kimball hospital and the long-term care addition to the Cozad hospital.

Mackey will also go to Minden to determine if the Bethany Old People's Home is structurally sound to qualify for federal aid being sought for a nursing care addition.

International Role Of Rotary Cited By Dist. Governor

"Today Rotary is emphasizing its international phase," the Rev. Thomas D. Rinde, District 565 Governor, told the members of the Lincoln Rotary Club Tuesday.

Rev. Rinde, of Fremont, indicated it was necessary for Rotarians, "to build bridges of friendship . . . in order to bring better relationships among the nations which have Rotary Clubs."

Paying his first visit to Lincoln club since being elected District Governor, the Rev. Rinde, noted that among the reasons for the organization's growth is its emphasis on fellowship and service.

The new governor is the assistant president at Central Seminary at Fremont. Rev. Rinde has been at the seminary for more than 25 years.

8 More Added To State's Polio List

Eight cases of polio were added to the State Department of Health's records during the last week a report from state officials showed Tuesday. These cases included 5 paralytic and 3 non-paralytic cases.

Reports to the State Department of Health, which often lag behind published figures, dropped one previously-reported polio case from the records because of a change in diagnosis. One case which was earlier reported as unspecified was changed to paralytic polio.

The change in diagnosis and the new case brought the state figure to 47 cases for the year compared to 10 cases at this time last year. Twelve of these 47 cases were from Lancaster County.

Two paralytic cases reported are from Lancaster County, and one each from Gage, Adams and Douglas Counties. The non-paralytic cases were from Washington, York and Hamilton Counties.

Hurrah For Miss Nebraska!

The state salutes Joan Arolyn Sipes, Miss Columbus, who is now Miss Nebraska of 1960.

Her triumph was a distinctive achievement. It had to be, one would conclude, after gazing on the charm and beauty of her rivals. It is evident that Nebraska could have supplied a half score states with leading contenders.

Miss Sipes now becomes contender for the honor of becoming Miss America and the state will watch her future course with pleasure and confidence.

One is reminded that nowadays beauty is still a vital requisite but the honor requires other enviable attributes—charm, graciousness and talent. Miss Sipes reflects a cultured upbringing and her talent runs to music of a high order.

And perhaps, the nicest thing she said in connection with her winning was:

"There are a lot of women I've admired, but my mother represents what I want to be."

We like that.

Nebraska is a natural habitat for charming girls. It is one crop that has never failed. Miss Sipes is one who has been singled out for special honors, but she represents any number who grace the homes and communities of the state.

Great Balls Of Fire

Senator Carl T. Curtis has loaded up his cannon with another charge of "further-mores" and fired into the citadel of the Nebraska Game Commission generally, and at Commissioner Mel Steen particularly.

The issue is the advisability of a measure introduced in Congress by the senator to allow former owners to repurchase land acquired by the federal government in connection with the development of the Harlan county reclamation reservoir. The land in question is surplus in respect to direct employment by the project.

Commissioner Steen, who envisions state control and management of all the available game and recreation facilities, opposed the land sale in the first instance when Senator Roman Hruska introduced it in 1958. He is continuing his opposition to its revival by Senator Curtis.

It may have been just a coincidence that the Hruska measure coincided with his pursuit of re-election, and it may just be an equal coincidence that it is reappearing at a moment when Senator Curtis' term is approaching time for renewal.

But in any event the measure lacks general stature in Nebraska because it caters to the pleasure of a relatively few land owners, or former landowners, in the Harlan dam area, whereas Commissioner Steen's recreation, game and reforestation program composes not only a venture in the development of a large and widespread collection of Nebraska resources, but is of consequence to every Nebraska citizen.

This immediate and unfortunate controversy cannot be resolved by debate inasmuch as the points are not being argued on the same plane. A new resources development philosophy is a thing of one character while a piece of parochial legislation for the benefit of a minority is quite another.

But thus far the controversy has exhibited more heat than light and only beclouds the public view of what Commissioner Steen is endeavoring to do in the way of major resources development, and how well.

It Depends Upon Whose Welfare

Ira Beynon, Lincoln attorney, is home after some time spent in the service of the Eisenhower administration as a figure in the General Services Administration.

Mr. Beynon, by and large, enjoyed his work, completed his period of service, and now has a multitude of experiences to reflect upon. One of them was disappointing and painful.

When he joined the GSA he was placed in charge of the government's nickel plant at Nicaro, Cuba—an enterprise formed to assure the United States of an adequate supply of that critical metal during the war, but which over the years became more of a rat hole for government money.

With a middle westerner's fine regard for the value of a dollar—public or private, and a thrifty man's reluctance to indulge in welfare statism except in cases of proved hardship and need, Mr. Beynon began stopping the leaks. He found that the plant had been paying $1.70 a ton for ore, albeit there was a nearby ore body where the same could be had for 8 to 12 cents a ton. He did the indicated thing; built a spur railroad track to the place and began to save something like $1.50 a ton.

A proper ending to this story would be a public tribute for a constructive piece of public service.

But the real ending was that affronted interests had him investigated and for a time there was the possibility that he would be run out as a public enemy. Fortunately an immaculate record for mosaic rectitude reduced the whole thing to a disagreeable experience, nothing more.

In contemplation of welfare statism, a broader definition is needed. It is being given a bad name where it relieves the individual needy, the unemployed, the old and the lame, but it is seldom extended to instances where the needy browse in the public till.

Concurrently with the Beynon report the St. Louis Post-Dispatch revealed that the Office of Civil and Defense Mobilization has now stockpiled strategic materials to more than twice the intended limit and is continuing to buy, although it has already spent $8,156,210,000. Moreover, it has contracted to purchase an additional $1 billion worth by 1965. The Post Dispatch concludes that since the goals of security have long since been reached the further purchasing is constituting largely a price support program and a subsidy for metals. Yet it all blithely goes on.

The critical spotlight is on the farm program which has invested slightly more in food products than the limited number of metals interests have enjoyed. But one is caused to ponder a Benson farm program which turns an austere face toward the falling prices of the crop producer, yet stimulates greater production which has developed a vast and pleasingly paid storage business.

The Rare Privilege Of Casting A Vote

MOSCOW—Nikita Khrushchev would not inspect the battery of voting machines on active display at the American exhibition during his tornado-like visit the other day.

"I'm not interested in anything like that," snorted the head of the great people's democracy.

But people are interested. They queue up by the dozens from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. These days and nights waiting to pull the levers in a rare manifestation of selection and choice.

True, it is not a very exciting "election" by American standards. But here they have responded briskly to the stunning novelty.

They may choose their favorite exhibit at the fair grounds from among such wonders as color television, Walt Disney's Circarama, Edward Steichen's "Family of Man," the model home, slick cars, clothing and home fixtures.

They may choose not one but two American cities and areas they'd like to visit, poignantly enough—New Orleans, Chicago, San Francisco, co, New York, Philadelphia, Washington, the Grand Canyon and Kansas where a t fields. They get a crack at American writers also — James Fenimore Cooper, Mark Twain, Jack London, Carl Sandburg, William Faulkner and Ernest Hemingway. Sandburg is the only candidate on hand and actively campaigning.

(Incidentally, Sandburg, who wears his white hair in bangs, and Steichen, who wears his gray sandy hair in a beard, are brothers-in-law).

The Russian voters at the fair are cut back to one choice among our statesmen, which should make them feel more at home. The contending candidates in this race bear some pretty fair credentials — Washington, Adams, Jefferson, Franklin, Lincoln and Webster.

The machines, exhibited by the Shoup Voting Machine Corporation of New York, also give the odd electorate the right to decide by the democratic process of lever yanking whether the exhibition in their opinion is excellent, good, fair, poor or very poor. We think it might have been useful to have included a category which perhaps would give them an opportunity to say "it's lousy."

Radio Peiping comes in here loud, clear and unjammed each night with an English language newscast delivered by somebody as properly Oxonian in his speech as John Daly. (Note to Daly's multitudes of admirers: He hasn't defected to the enemy. A rare bird for a newscaster, he is on this trip searching out news.)

Our Peiping man's eyes aren't the only thing slanted about him. He weighed in last night with a big plug for Fidel Castro. Fidel rates a plug from Peiping.

Our kids at the fair are doing a good job of speaking up for their country. Serving as guides, fashion models, demonstrators and the like, they are bombarded daily by countless thousands of questions of every conceivable thought and range. The State Department gave them all thorough briefings but, recognizing that there is no way to anticipate every question which would be raised, wisely enough told them never to guess at an answer if they were not sure; just tell the questioner that they didn't know or would try to learn the answer.

The price of things, the number of hours worked in the United States, school work, unemployment insurance, and baby care lead the questions. But there are also many questions about treatment of minorities, notably Negroes. One day hosts of young Communists all asked the question: Why are the people of Washington, D.C., not permitted to vote?

White House Use Of GI's Immune

WASHINGTON — Congressman Mel Price of Illinois and the House subcommittee investigating the use of GI's as servants have been careful to steer clear of antagonizing the White House. But one of the best examples of how enlisted men are used as valets and waiters is right in the White House.

A total of 23 are permanently assigned to Eisenhower, plus 49 more as White House chauffeurs, despite the fact that the President's personal salary has been increased by Congress to $100,000; and despite the fact that his expense allowance for operating the White House has been upped by congress to $50,000 plus another $40,000 for travel.

Ike's personal valet, who presses his pants and shines his shoes, is Master Sergeant John Mooney on the Army payroll. The Navy also provides 12 mess stewards who wait on table at the White House. None are assigned regularly to Ike's Gettysburg farm, but he usually brings along a couple to wait on him during his week-end visits.

The Navy keeps another five mess stewards on full-time duty at Camp David, Md., the President's mountain retreat. Three more are assigned as servants on his two motor launches, the Susie Q and Barbara Ann.

On air trips, Ike is served by two Air Force stewards, who are stationed aboard his plane, the Columbine. Another 49 army GI's serve in the White House motor pool as chauffeurs and dispatchers.

These figures, of course, don't include the President's three military aides, their eleven secretaries and orderlies, two military doctors on fulltime duty in the White House, the Columbine crew and mechanics, the motor launch crews, a large secret army communications crew and several military guards—all of whom are charged against the defense budget rather than the President's own budget for running the White House.

The total White House budget for last year, exclusive of these armed services costs, was more than double what it was in President Truman's last year in office.

Word has been passed down from the White House, quietly but firmly, to put the nix on Sen. Hubert Humphrey's plan to revive the Civilian Conservation Corps, now renamed the Youth Conservation Corps. The Minnesota solon had worked up considerable support for the idea of getting youngsters off the streets of big cities, as during New Deal days, for work in protecting forests, rural roads, building dams, and other conservation projects.

Nixon Eyes Nikita And American Votes

WASHINGTON—The spectacle of Vice-President Richard Nixon campaigning for the presidency in a Soviet satellite state, more especially Poland, which is the most delicate area of American diplomacy today, is one which Secretary of State John Foster Dulles adamantly refused to countenance in his lifetime.

A mistake made here will be paid for by the Poles, not by Nixon nor by the United States. And what their Soviet masters are capable of in the way of reprisals has been written in blood in East Germany and Hungary.

American diplomacy has undertaken in Poland to fan the flame of independence while avoiding any move which would instigate acts by the Poles which, in turn, would incite the Soviets to harsh retaliation. It is into this situation of precarious balance that Nixon proposes to interject himself and his enormous entourage for purposes of self-aggrandizement.

This government and the Gomulka regime of Poland accepted the risks of their present association because the ties between the two countries are long and deeply felt. The Polish struggles for freedom have vibrated a response chord in American hearts for generations. Among the Soviet satellites, it alone receives American credits.

Why this has been overlooked by the Soviet Union is unclear, but presumably the Soviets wish to avoid another Hungary. It is never wise, however, to assume that Soviet policy in such areas cannot instantly shift, and it so happens that the Nixon visit coincides with a period of increasing East-West tension.

The State Department refuses to accept responsibility for the Nixon trip to Poland. Secretary Christian Herter is in Geneva.

Nixon's own reasons are starkly simple. There are more people of Polish descent in Chicago than in Warsaw. There are similar concentrations in Detroit, Buffalo and like industrial centers. In every case, they form a largely homogeneous voting bloc of whose susceptibilities all politicians are notoriously tender.

The Nixon trip to Russia is a vastly different cup of tea. There is every reason to believe that the Kremlin, despite Nikita Khrushchev's brief show of truculence, welcomed a visit from the man they think might be the next president. This falls within the realm of the realities they are quick to grasp, power being one of the few things they understand and respect.

Nixon, in turn, had certain great advantages. He cannot negotiate and produce any substantive settlement of East-West difficulties. But, in view of the present dismal outlook, any glimmer of hope he brought back would be regarded as a triumph.

But the net impression here is questionable of benefit to Nixon. So is the daily grist of pictures and headlines in this publicity-conscious country.

Poland will be another story.

Taft-Hartley Held In Abeyance

WASHINGTON — Although the realists are aware that the political consequences may be deadly, the Eisenhower administration is prepared to wait out the steel strike. At the end of four or five weeks the government may intervene by invoking the Taft-Hartley 80-day cooling-off period, but this is by no means certain.

Reports of record or near-record profits of the steel companies in the second quarter of this year provide a backdrop for the resentment of the steel workers. They throw into sharp relief President Eisenhower's challenge to industry and labor to use self-restraint in checking inflation.

Whatever he may feel privately about the way in which the situation has been handled, Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell is maintaining the judicious calm that is his hallmark. He points out that a great many of the steel workers have been, in the first two weeks of the strike, on paid vacations which they earned under the union-industry contract now expired.

With inventories as large as they are, steel users will not begin to feel the pinch for at least a month. This being the case, as Mitchell argues it, there will be time enough to consider using the Taft-Hartley weapon when the economic pinch begins to be felt.

To support his case, Mitchell cites the steel strike of 1952. President Truman came down hard on the side of the steel workers, invoking the 80-day cooling-off clause to keep the mills going. Yet that strike lasted for 54 days in the middle of the Korean War, when the demand for steel was at least as great as it is today.

In calling for the 80-day cooling-off period, the government must establish that a national emergency requires it. This, in Mitchell's view, could not be done today. Moreover, it can be used only once. If nothing is changed at the end of the 80 days, then the strike is resumed. That was what happened in 1952.

Whatever trouble David J. McDonald may have had inside his United Steelworkers Union with the prospect of a long and unpopular strike has been largely resolved by the attitude of the companies. This again is the view of the realists, who see which way the political winds are about to blow. The company demand for uniform labor conditions in all plants has caused deep resentment.

The fact-finding operation Mitchell is directing looks like a device to fill in the time until the government feels justified in intervening directly. With the resources for accumulating information on a day-to-day basis to be found not only in the Labor Department but in a half dozen other government agencies, there would seem to be little new that could be added. In any event, the fact-finding results carefully presented in statistical tables will not mean much to the average citizen.

Steel is a set piece in President Eisenhower's campaign against inflation. But with the cost of living index holding stationary, except for fractional seasonal changes on food, the campaign must seem to the ordinary householder a pretty academic business. The grocery bill is just about the same as it was six months or a year ago, and that is the test.

By his insistent cry of inflation, when it could not be detected by the householder, the President has raised doubt and uncertainty. The terms of rising interest rates and the determined struggle of another cabinet member, Secretary of the Treasury Robert B. Anderson, to set the government's fiscal house in order. But the householder will not discover what it means until a few months from now when he buys a house or a car.

Steel's big profits have given McDonald a wonderful talking point and he has not been slow to take advantage of it. With steel workers walking the picket line as steel profits make the headlines, this, in the elementary vocabulary of the politician, is a gut issue.

The explanation and qualifications — comparing boom-time quarter profits with a recession-time quarter, the need to accumulate capital for further expansion, etc., etc. — will have little effect. Profits and expansion are linked with another gut issue — automation and the capacity of a greatly reduced work force to turn out more steel.

These are the things that hit home. Short of a major disaster in foreign policy — war or a crushing diplomatic setback — they are the things which will determine the outcome of next year's election.

Driving Violations

Hebron, Neb.

The letter, "Real Violators," by T. H. Gentry in the July 24 Star shows how inconsistent some people are about the law-enforcement officers, and especially the highway patrol. They do not make the laws, but they are sworn to enforce the law regardless of who the law-breaker may be. Laws are enacted to be obeyed by the public and for their protection.

The large majority of our citizens are law-abiding and respect the officers, while a small minority respect no law and are eternally looking for a way to break the law without being caught. With a peace officer, these few and the large majority all look alike until they are caught violating the law.

There are thousands killed and crippled for life each year on our highways, more than all other places put together, even including battlefields of war. We have ample laws for protection if car drivers would just obey. The highways are well marked for the protection of the traveling public.

The patrolmen cannot be in all places at the same time. No one can be excused for violating the law because someone else is guilty, too, and has not been caught. Any driver who cannot reduce his speed from 35 miles to 25 miles an hour in two blocks has no business driving a car.

The law-abiding citizens who drive cars can and should assist the patrolmen by taking the numbers of cars they see violating the law, and report them.

The Advances

Alliance, Neb.

Sen. Curtis' recent statements that labor unions will be going all-out to defeat him next year are utter nonsense. It is a federal offense for a labor union to donate money to a candidate for federal office, and it just isn't done.

I have been a union member for 10 years and my union has never presumed to tell me how they'd like to have me vote. As a matter of fact, all the tremendous advances the working man has made have been won by the work, sweat, and sometimes the blood of the union member. The 40-hour work week, decent wages, overtime pay for overtime work, social security, health protection on the job, paid vacations, job protection and child labor laws are some of these advances.

This dedicated work has resulted in the outlawing of the sweat shop with its bare subsistence wages, and no longer are children doing men's work for children's wages.

If I were a banker, dedicated to the dollar, I'd be all for Sen. Curtis and his fellow Republicans. However, I'm a working man dedicated to my fellow man, and find that the Democratic party comes pretty close to my way of thinking.

BILL BURNHAM

The Alternative

Alexandria, Neb.

Herbert Jehle's objections to our preparation for mass retaliation are quite sound.

After all, wrong-doing is personal, and should be personally punished. To kill Russians en masse because Khrushchev has ordered some murdering done is naturally repugnant to all right-thinking people.

But the solution proposed by speakers for the Mead Demonstrators of which Mr. Jehle by quoting seems to approve — destroy our missiles, abandon preparations for possible war—is to throw ourselves on the mercy of Khrushchev, enslaver of all he can enslave. Very few of us can go along with so fantastic a solution as that.

As a physicist, one who had to deal day by day with very factual, very real things, Mr. Jehle should come up with a sounder solution.

Dick Lindberg, in the Sargent Leader: "Something that never ceases to confound newspaper editors is the voice of public opinion expressed openly on the street, yet completely absent at city council meetings."

Warren Wood, in the Gering Courier: "Believe it or not, a Gering teacher is being paid $600 less a year than offered elsewhere. Just likes Gering and wants to stay."

Mrs. J. W. Tyler in the Peru Pointer: "The misty, moisty weather makes us understand how our English friends need that hot closet for drying out the garden clothes, bath towels, sweaters and shoes which would otherwise grow whiskers of mold."

Arch Jarrell, in the Grand Island Independent: "A reader phoned this department the other day that a grasshopper 3½ inches long had been brought into his establishment. That wasn't a grasshopper. It was a baby dinosaur and should be given to Alley Oop."

Harold Spence in the Holdrege Citizen: "Steaks from tranquilized cows taste better. That's the word from a research scientist. By the same token, you'd think they could do something about the lowly radish, to knock it so goofy it wouldn't fight back after being consumed."

Protests Turned Down, Railroads Will Probably Appeal Valuations

By Betty Person

Appeals to the Nebraska Supreme Court on the 1959 railroad valuations set by the State Board of Equalization appeared almost certain Tuesday after the Board turned down assessment protests filed by 4 railroads.

Under the valuations set by the Board, the overall increase to all railroads doing business in the state will be an average of 1.61%, but the percentage change among the individual railroads varies from a high of 7.7% increase for Chicago-Northwestern, to a 5.56% reduction for Rock Island.

Bulk By U.P.

Union Pacific, with an increase of 3.18% in its valuation over last year, would pay the bulk of the some $2 million total increase.

If the railroads do appeal, it will mark the first time since 1923 when the State Supreme Court has had such a case.

In that year the Rock Island appealed its assessment from the Board and won with the Court ordering the Board to revalue the property and assess it at the same level as other property.

The Burlington Railroad appealed its state assessments through the federal courts in 1922, '23, '24, '25, and '26 (before Nebraska law was changed giving the State Supreme Court full jurisdiction in such matters) and the court decided in favor of the railroad in each case.

4 Protest

The 4 railroads presenting their formal protests to the Board Tuesday were: Chicago-Northwestern, Union Pacific, Burlington and Missouri Pacific.

Chicago-Northwestern representatives contended at Tuesday's hearing that obsolescence should be considered if the investment factor used since 1953 is to be continued.

Operating income of railroads should be capitalized at more than the 6% figure now used, the railroad also contended, suggesting that it should be at least 8% and preferably 10%, since the railroad is obligated to pay more than 6% on its equipment trusts.

Attorneys for Union Pacific, Burlington and Missouri Pacific declared that the multiplying factor used in the Board's formula since repeal of the basic value law was "absolutely indefensible" in determining the actual value of railroads.

Railroads At 95%

Under the basic value law, property was assessed at 70% of its value, but railroads were at that time assessed at 95% of value by the Board following repeal of the 50% law in 1953.

When the basic value law was repealed, the Board adopted the multiplying factor of 1.42 to bring the value of property up from 70% to 100%, and this same factor was applied against the railroads.

This resulted in their property being assessed at 47% of actual value rather than 35% as the law requires, the railroads said.

Burlington attorney Jay Weingarten of Omaha suggested that if repealing the multiplying factor entirely would be "too big a jump," the Board might consider a compromise whereby the factor would be reduced to 1.2 this year and then abolished next year. This was not accepted and this year's multiplying factor remains at 1.42.

Surviving are his wife, Augusta; a daughter, Edna; a sister, Mrs. Gertrude Anderson of Wahoo; and a grandchild. Burial will be at Wahoo.

STRIKERS FEEL PINCH

Ready To Dip Into Savings Accounts

Pittsburgh (AP)—The economic squeeze is turning into a pinch for striking steelworkers.

Most of the half million strikers have drawn their last full pay checks and now can look forward to little or no income until their nationwide labor dispute with the steel companies is settled.

The strike began July 15, but most of the workers had two weeks plus a few days of pay coming when they put down their tools. Practically all of that backlog pay has been passed out in the past few days.

From here on most of the idle workers will be at the mercy of their savings accounts. So will be many of the 78,000 workers already furloughed in industries allied to basic steel.

When savings accounts are gone and hardship cases develop, committees within local unions will step in and quietly arrange credit with shops, banks, landlords and other creditors.

Transfer Hearing Set For Beer License

A public hearing on the proposed transfer of the beer license now held by LaVonne's Tavern at 56th and Havelock was set by the County Board Tuesday for Aug. 11.

Peter L. Kortum and Stanley L. Grell of Lincoln have applied to take over operation of the tavern.

Ike's Grandson Guest Of Karnopp

By Del Harding

The typical looking 11-year-old boy who passed through Lincoln Tuesday morning with a group of campers was none other than President Eisenhower's grandson.

Dwight David Eisenhower II, who goes by his middle name, was one of 6 youths who were guests of Sheriff Merle Karnopp and his wife at the Karnopp cabin on the Blue River southeast of Milford.

Karnopp's 17-year-old son, Dennis, became acquainted with David Eisenhower 3 years ago at a boys' ranch near Estes Park, Colo.

Handpicked

This summer Dennis and 11 other boys ranging in age from 12 to 17 were chosen by the camp operators, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Thompson of Ar-vada, Colo., to accompany the Thompsons on a 12-country European tour.

Young Eisenhower, who has been vacationing at the boys' ranch again this summer, is accompanying some of the Europe-bound boys as far as President Eisenhower's farm at Gettysburg, Pa.

David will be host for the boys for an overnight stay at the farm Thursday and then he will remain there and the other boys will go to New York. Young Karnopp and the other 11 boys will sail with the Thompsons on Friday and will return to this country Sept. 17.

Secret Servicemen

David is being looked after on the cross-country drive by two Secret Service agents, who are always assigned to guard him. They remain in the background as much as possible — "We try not to single David out so he can have the same kind of vacation other boys do," one agent said.

Sheriff Karnopp said David is a "fine, normal boy." He said the boy told Mrs. Karnopp how much he enjoyed the chicken she had prepared for their picnic lunch.

He said David also is an avid baseball fan, and listened intently to the ball scores over television at the cabin.

David's father, Maj. John Eisenhower, is stationed at Washington, D.C.

Super Radar Details Told

Washington (UPI) — The Army announced development Tuesday of an ultra-sensitive radar which can spot "the slightest... movement" behind enemy lines and even distinguish between a walking man and woman.

A soldier crawling on the ground two miles away can not only be "seen" but "heard," the Army said.

Explaining how a radar operator can distinguish a woman from a man by watching the blips on his radar scope, an Army spokesman said a woman walks differently and produces a different wave on the radar.

Extended Hospital Stay Is Expected For Ralph Harlan

County Commissioner Ralph Harlan probably will be hospitalized for some time with the virus infection which put him in a Lincoln hospital July 18, according to County Commissioner Kenneth Bourne.

Bourne said Tuesday that Harlan still has some paralysis in his arms and legs from the rare virus. He said Harlan told him he did not know how long he would have to be hospitalized.

Dump Keeper Jumped; Police Are Stumped

Walter L. Ritter of 2044 G told deputy sheriffs that two unknown men assaulted him Monday evening as he was locking the gates to the city dump north of Lincoln, the Sheriff's office reported Tuesday.

Ritter reportedly suffered facial cuts. The two men involved are being sought by deputies, who said the men apparently were seen over the dump closing hour.

170 Pen Officers Get $30-$105 Salary Raises

... Just-Announced Hikes Were Effective July 1

Salary increases ranging from $30 to $10 a month went into effect July 1 for approximately 170 officers at the Nebraska State Penitentiary, it was learned Tuesday.

The salary hikes were approved late in June by former Board Chairman Mrs. Catherine Martin and Charles Leeman.

Leeman, who became chairman July 1 after Mrs. Martin was succeeded by Mrs. Ethel Kirwin, said he and Mrs. Martin also approved a new wage scale for all employees in Board institutions, but said these have not yet gone into effect.

"It's our hope that increases may be effected for all state institution employees, but we must first determine what the budget will allow," Leeman said.

Not Present

Board Member Harold Peterson said he was not present when the salary increases were approved for the Penitentiary employees, nor when the new wage scale for all institutions was approved.

Peterson said wage hikes had been under consideration for some time, but that he had believed it was necessary to learn first what the Board's appropriation would be from the Legislature, and also what balance would be carried over from the previous biennium. "I certainly believe all the employees should be increased," Peterson said, "but we should first determine

Value Of Western Electric Buildings 'Anybody's Guess'

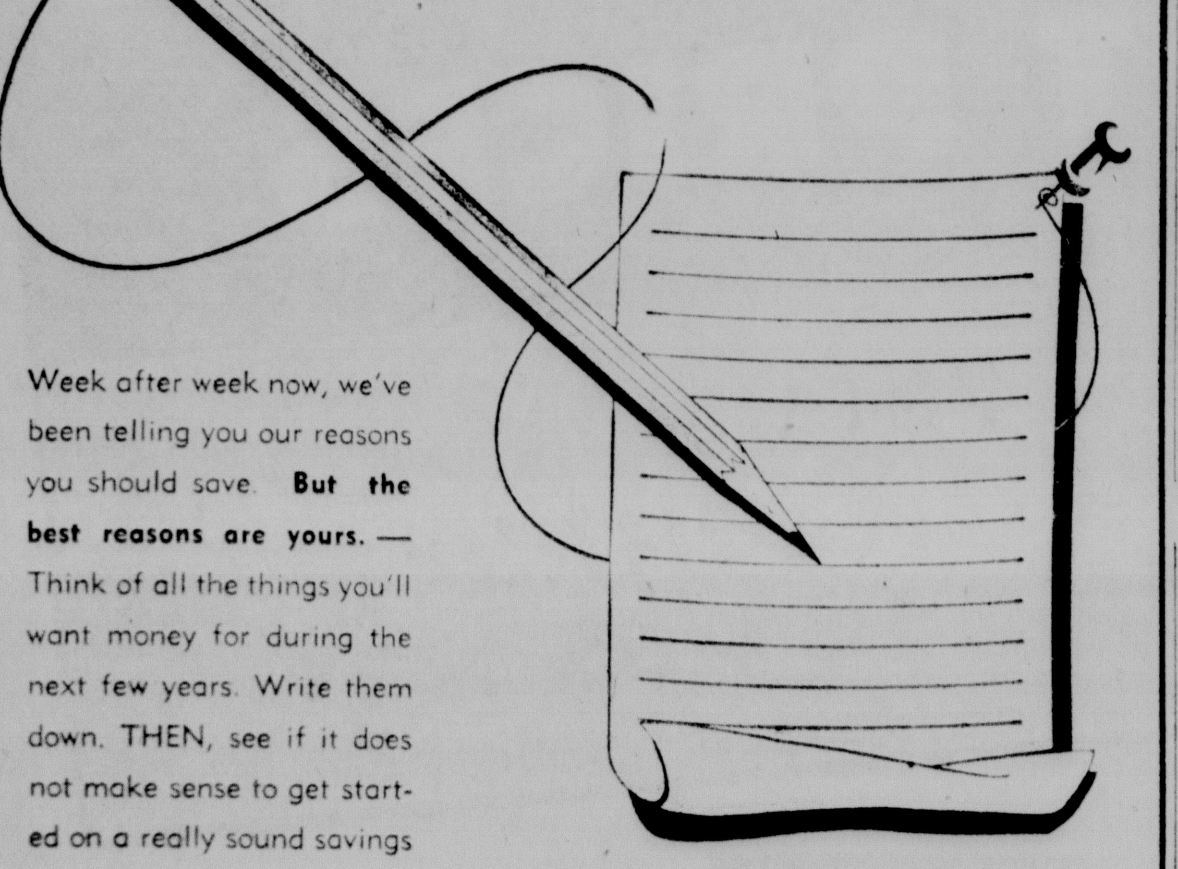

The Governor's office Tuesday released a letter from State Tax Commissioner Fred Herrington in which the tax chief stated there appears to be "3 honest differences of opinion" in the controversy over valuation of buildings at the Western Electric Co. near Omaha.

Western Electric valued its buildings at $15,000,000, but Douglas County Assessor Joe Stollinski raised this to $35,373,000. The Douglas County Board of Equalization later reduced the valuation to $30,000,000 following an appeal by the company.

If the assumption on the honest differences of opinion is correct, Herrington said, the county board "has acted within its right and duty, and unless an appeal is taken to the courts, the value will stand."

Liquor Aloft Is Defended

Washington (UPI) — The Federal Aviation Agency warned Congress Tuesday that outlawing liquor sales aloft to meet complaints of "flying barrooms" might just aggravate the problem.

Deputy FAA Administrator James T. Pyle outlined the agency's stand in testimony before a House commerce subcommittee which is considering proposals to ban the sale of liquor on airliners flying domestic routes.

Rep. Gracie Pfoz (D-Idaho) said she had heard "terrifying" stories about the behavior of drunken passengers. But Pyle said that if the airlines were prohibited from serving alcoholic beverages, problem drinkers might be tempted to take an extra drink before boarding or to sneak drinks aloft from a flask.

Curtis Vs. Steen On Harlan Continues

Washington (AP)—Sen. Carl T. Curtis (R-Neb.) criticized director M. O. Steen of the Nebraska Game Commission for having a "hard time getting the facts straight" in their latest exchange over a Harlan County Reservoir bill.

Curtis released Tuesday a letter he sent to Steen in reply to the state officials latest criticism regarding the senator's bill to return unneeded lands at the reservoir to original owners.

Steen had written Curtis that a similar measure had been offered by Sen. Roman L. Hruska (R-Neb.) last session, that he had discussed the measure with Hruska, and had advised that he was opposed to the bill.

Agrees On Terms
"I agree with you," Steen

Opinion Given On Fee Collections
The attorney general issued a lengthy opinion on fees that can be collected by a district court clerk as result of LB 462 being passed in the 1959 Legislature.

John J. Hanley, Douglas County attorney, Omaha, had requested the opinion.

The attorney general said LB462 requires a $25 docket fee and a $1 fee for the judges retirement fund to be collected in each juvenile court case filed in the district court.

The district court clerk may not collect a fee for making the complete record at the time of filing of the petition, but it is his duty to collect the $10 fee in advance before making the complete record, the opinion said.

The opinion said the district court clerk shall not make a charge for filings, demurrers, answers, etc., and for issuing, after judgment, writs for execution summons in garnishment and similar documents in cases that were instituted prior to the effective date of LB462.

wrote, "I think I should have known better than to call your measure a land grab bill. Anyone who reads it will likely agree to that. I believe it is far better described as 'a land give-away bill.'"

Curtis replied: "You know this was federal land. You know that as a representative of that territory I had a duty to perform, yet your first act was to blast me in the public press. Your facts were not correct. Your facts were wrong as to the policy of the Army engineers."

"Mr. Steen, there are some things in Nebraska you may not be aware of. I yield to no one in what has been done to promote fish and wildlife introduction in Nebraska. I introduced the resolution which brought forth the Pick-Sloan Plan. I sponsored the legislation and the appropriations which resulted in Harlan County Dam, Culbertson Dam, Enders Dam, and Cambridge Dam. Without these we would not have the reservoirs which mean so much to Nebraskans."

'DISSERVICE' DISCUSSED

State Game Commission Director Mel Steen lashed back at Sen. Carl Curtis (R-Neb.) after criticism by Curtis' bill was a disservice to the state.

"This morning, I read with great surprise that it is a public disservice to alert the people to the provisions of legislation that affects their interests and provides for the disposal of public property," Steen said.

"The people I speak for do not consider this a disservice, but they do consider the Harlan land bill a great disservice," he said.

Curtis introduced a bill to return to private ownership land around the Harlan County reservoir.

"The land acquisition policy that Senator Curtis refers to was instituted in 1953, after the Harlan project had been completed. The policy was widely and vigorously opposed by the conservation forces of this nation.

"It was subject of investigation by a congressional committee before which I personally testified. The House Committee on Government Operations subsequently issued a report stating in effect that the policy was not in the public interest and should be modified," Steen said.

Calf Crop May Take 4% Jump

The 1959 Nebraska calf crop is expected to be 4% over last year's and 8% over the 10-year average, the State-Federal Division of Agricultural Statistics reported Tuesday.

This year's crop is expected to hit 1,732,000 head compared to 1,673,000 last year and the 10-year average of 1,597,000.

The increase is the first in 5 years. The annual calf crop began declining in 1955 when the drought started a liquidation of cow herds. The expected number this year is 6% below the record high 1954 crop.

School Tax Levy $1 Higher In '59

Omaha (AP)—The Omaha School Board set its 1959-60 tax levy at $27.50 per $1,000 assessed valuation.

The rate is $1 higher than last year.

The increase was added to the general fund levy which will be $22.40 and will produce an estimated $12,099,960. The bond, building and retirement levy is $5.10.

Hay Springs, Neb. — Duane Sandberg has been installed as commander of the Hay Springs American Legion post. Other officers include Neamon Metcalf, vice commander; Noble Belknap, finance officer; Elvin Terrell, adjutant; and Ralph Stortheide, sergeant-at-arms.

Enjoyable Life

Oklahoma City (AP)—Ray Trent says his duties as mayor of suburban Del City aren't wearing him down. "It's a fascinating hobby. Once you get into City Hall I don't think you can ever get it out of your system."

Stanton Delaplaine's POSTCARD

It rained on St. Swithin's Day in New York. And as everyone knows, rain on St. Swithin's Day means rain for 40 days thereafter.

The weatherman thinks otherwise. But has been proved no the weather which knows what it is doing. It has been raining now for two weeks.

The weather was 80 degrees last night. Rain and thunder and lightning battered the streets of Manhattan. An inch of rain fell in an hour.

The social season is at low ebb.

The New York businessmen, however, have cleaned up one bad situation.

The daily papers will no longer refer to the "Discomfort Index" — a complicated equation of temperature and humidity. You divide one into another and the answer is, it's hot, brother, hot and uncomfortable.

"Why use bad psychology?" said the New York hotel men. "Even Chicago, with that terrible weather they have. They say, 'Partly sunny,' not 'partly cloudy.'"

The agreeable New York journals now print in the weather box, the "T-H." The Temperature-Humidity.

The T-H tonight has a lot of discomfort. That is my index.

The state of New York is still quizzing a bunch of socialites on what is called "the Apalachin Convention."

This was a little get-together a year ago by the higher class hoods to cut up various territories. Some say to cut up the illicit estate of Mr. Albert Anastasia.

The corpulent Mr. Anastasia, once a member of Murder Inc., was punctured by gunfire as he was basking under the latter in Grasso's barber shop on Seventh avenue.

He left a tidy empire of who-knows-what — slot machines or bookie parlors or whatever.

Anyway, on November 14, 1957, a group of mourners gathered for a talk. And what they tell the State investigators is a caution.

Two of them have testified they talked to no one.

"We didn't know anybody at the party and we didn't talk because we wasn't properly introduced," they testified primly.

Such elegant, prep school manners impressed the investigators. Except they happened to know that the school records of nearly everybody showed more jolts at Elmira reformatory than at Groton.

Our own social life hinges around Moriarty's chophouse on Sixth avenue at 52nd street.

Himself — that is P. J. Moriarty, the publican — keeps a running record of where our colleagues are. Their marital status. Who is on the wagon. And how long it took to find a certain playwright who took to beer in despair after watching his second act blow apart.

"They found him out in California," said P. J. "Quite by accident."

"Our friend Kelly is on the wagon and his stories are better than when we fell off the bar stool while reciting 'Thanatopsis.' Or some such grand thing. For he's a man who reads only the best."

We also held a social conference with Mr. Irving Hoffman — we have been introduced to him so it is all right. He is just back from Cuba.

"Most of the bad publicity coming out of Cuba is from a wire service man who goes on the TV instead of saving the scoop for the wire service," said Hoffman. "The advantage of Cuba right now is all the tourists are scared out. You can get service and have a ball."

At Moriarty's I also found out that Joe Barnes is on his way to Russia. Earl Wilson is in Caracas, Venezuela. The missing playwright will return for the third act. And the jolly wagoner shows no sign of coming off the high-and-dry.

These are things you pick up at conferences. And I really can't blame the boys who went to the Apalachin thing even though the State investigators do. A conference puts you up in the know. Even if you aren't properly introduced.

That is what the investigators suspect. And would like to know.

CAB May Hold Frontier Hearing

The Civil Aeronautics Board apparently is receptive to a CAB hearing on Frontier Airlines service in Nebraska.

State Aeronautics Director Jack Obbink said he conferred with CAB officials by telephone about the matter.

The hearing would be to determine the intent of the CAB order in the seven-state's area case as to what was meant by "adequate service."

Several Nebraska communities have complained that

Frontier is not providing adequate service.

MRS. LEO L. ALLEN

Miss Betty Sevenker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Sevenker of Ord, became the bride of Leo L. Allen of Des Moines, son of Ralph R. Allen of Lincoln, on Sunday, July 12. The ceremony was solemnized at 2 o'clock in the Ord Methodist Church.

Albert Allen of Lincoln served as best man, and seating the guests were Donald Romisch, Des Moines, and Lyle Sevenker, Ord.

The bride appeared in a cotillion-length frock of white organza and lace over satin. Lace sprinkled with sequins fashioned the bateau neckline and yoke of the fitted bodice, and continued over the shoulders into the brief sleeves, which were completed by long mitts of organza. The lace was repeated on the wide skirt, which was caught into a hemline flounce, and her illusion veil was held to the head by a coronet of pearlized blossoms. She carried white French chrysanthemums centered with a white orchid.

Mr. Allen, a former student at the University of Nebraska and a member of Delta Sigma Phi, and his bride will make their home at 350 42nd St., in Des Moines.

Tours Japanese Shrines

Todaiji Temple at Nara, Japan, the world's oldest wooden structure, built in the Eighth Century and housing the Great Buddha, a bronze image weighing over 500 metric tons.

EDITOR'S NOTE:—In her last letter from Japan, Mrs. William H. Hasebrook describes the beautiful temples and shrines included in her tour itinerary.

A "must" stop in Japan is Kyoto. Three hundred fifty miles south of Tokyo, Kyoto is a city rich in historic association and legendary lore. The finest relics of old Japan are safely guarded in this inland area.

Kyoto served Japan as its capitol from 794 to 1868, and has many imposing shrines, temples and palaces with elaborately designed gardens. Here is located the Heian Shrine, Higashi and Nishi Temples, the old Imperial Palace, the Nijo Castle, and the famous Kiyomizu Temple.

The fine arts industries

—August is peering around the corner and getting the lay of the land before putting in an official appearance on Saturday. We can state with some authority that the month will be busy with homecomers—and weddings. In the latter category we have statistics—110 ceremonies will be solemnized in Lincoln and the state of Nebraska during the 31 days of August.

But at this moment we are interested in homecomers—those who already have arrived, and those who will be back in town next mid-week.

—Early week—Monday, to be specific—brought Mrs. Hoyt Hawke back to town from Santa Barbara, Calif., where she spent six weeks as the guest of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Larson.

—And also on the already-home list are Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Baylor who returned on Sunday evening from the Pacific northwest where they spent a few weeks.

—With rush week a scant month away it is not surprising that the coeds who have been traveling in Europe this summer soon will be wending their way homeward. As a matter of fact a week from today, Aug. 5, will be homecoming day for Miss Sandra Ellis, Miss Sandra Lichtenberg, Miss Judy Mueller, Miss Sharon Quinn and Miss Sandra Johns.

We also learned that two former coeds, Miss Sarah Hpbka of Beatrice, and Miss Marlene Kuhlman of Denver, will be returning at about the same time from a summer in Europe.

—Just this moment heard that Mr. and Mrs. Carl Junge of Washington, D.C., will be arriving today, and that during their stay in town they will be the house guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Ellis.

Mr. Junge, by the way, is flying in from Alaska where he has been on government business. Mrs. Junge will come from Pelican Lake, Minn., where she, her daughter, Mrs. Robert Ferguson of Cedar Rapids, Ia., and Mrs. Ferguson's children have been vacationing at the summer home of Mr. Junge's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Junge.

—Also on the guest list is John P. Good Jr. (Pete—for short) of Port Washington, Long Island, N.Y. Pete is the house guest of his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Mutz Jr., and also is visiting his grandfather, Sterling F. Mutz, and Mrs. Mutz.

And of course you remember that Pete's mother, Mrs. John P. Good, is the former Jessica Mutz.

—Have some news from New Hampshire this morning that will be of interest to the many Lincoln friends of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Jelinek of Manchester, N.H., formerly of Lincoln.

We were told that Miss Judy Jelinek, the 17-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jelinek, was the winner of the New Hampshire Junior Women's Golf Tournament on July 23.

Guests From Boston

Popular visitors from the east coast are Dr. and Mrs. Harry Senger (the former Nancy Aitken) of Boston, who are guests at the home of Mrs. Senger's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William I. Aitken.

To compliment their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Aitken entertained at a picnic supper on Tuesday evening at their home.

During their stay in town

Dr. and Mrs. Senger also are visiting Mrs. Senger's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. J. Taylor Greer.

Marriage Announced

The marriage of Miss Helen Pulley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Pulley, to Albert Nelson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fritz Terry, all of Meadow Grove, was solemnized Friday afternoon, July 17, at the Meadow Grove Methodist Church. The lines of the service were read by the Rev. Herbert Gilbert.

Attending the couple were Miss Barbara O'Banion and John Denny.

Upon returning from a wedding trip to the Black Hills, Mr. and Mrs. Nelson will make their home in Lincoln where the bridegroom is employed.

Vacation

In New York

Mr. and Mrs. Roland Weyers of Crab Orchard have returned home from a vacation trip to New York City and nearby communities. While in New York, the Weyers, who are square dance enthusiasts, attended a square dance held at the famous McBurney's roof garden.

COUNTRY CLUB TERRACE

Returning home Sunday after a two-week vacation were Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Dohman and their daughters, Charlene and Debra.

The family visited Mr. Dohman's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Dohman, in Milner, N.D., and Mrs. Dohman's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Erickson, at their home in DeLamere, N.D.

Enroute home the Dohmans spent several days in Minnesota.

Also back from a two-week trip are Capt. and Mrs. Thomas Boles and their children, Kathy and Tim, who spent their holiday in Indiana.

The Boles were the guests of Mr. Boles' mother, Mrs. Harvey Rogers, and Mr. Rogers in Upland, and also visited Mrs. Boles' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Moorman of Alexandria.

This Friday the Boles family plans to leave for Waco, Tex., where Capt. Boles will be attending Air Force Instrument School for two and a half months.

Mrs. Boles and her children will return to Lincoln before the start of the school year.

In farewell courtesy to Mr. and Mrs. Lester Hunt, the members of the State Department of Education entertained at a luncheon held at the YWCA on Monday afternoon.

On Tuesday evening the couple were the dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Niehaus.

Celebrated Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Daugherty, 1720 So. 45th, observed their 25th wedding anniversary on Tuesday, July 28, when they were host and hostess to their friends at an open house.

Clubs, was feeding three of them when a fourth deer, believing he had been ignored, came up and bit her on the hip. Fortunately, it was a mere nip.

The most recent shrine to be constructed in Japan is the Ryozen Kannon Buddha at the Kodaiji Temple. This 80-foot cement image was erected to commemorate the two million Japanese war dead during World War II.

Also recently, a monument to the war's unknown soldier—foe or friend—was created in the memory of the more than 48,000 foreign soldiers who perished on Japanese territory or on territory under Japanese military control. The tablet is dedicated to man's love and belief in universal brotherhood. It is situated inside the sanctuary at the base of this enormous Buddha, rising from a lotus leaf. The inscription and reverent atmosphere fill one's heart with the desire for everlasting world-wide peace.

This is Japan. A fleeting glimpse but a wonderful, revealing picture. Our quick visit has indicated that people are human and important the world over and that brotherhood and understanding can ease many world problems.

"Sayonara, Japan." We are off for Hong Kong at midnight.

Bringing Up Baby.

HINTS COLLECTED BY MRS. DAN GERBER, MOTHER OF 5

Once baby begins to creep and gets his first taste of freedom, that play pen is going to become less popular. But the shift from pen to the free world of floors should be gradual, since there are still times when you'll want baby to stay put. If you plan a good balance between play pen time and roaming time—with each session at about the same time each day—chances are baby will accept the idea of regular routine without too much fuss!

"All fours" activity calls for plenty of "stick-to-the-ribs" food.

Gerber Strained and Junior Meats are just the thing to give baby the protein he needs for strength and muscle development. Made from selected, lean Armour cuts, they're specially processed for high retention of nourishing food values. Low in fat, they're all pure meat, with just enough broth left in to bring out the best in the flavors and velvet texture.

Cute "knee cops." When baby's overalls wear through at the knees, why not cut out patches of bunnies, kitties or most anything but a plain old square. It's as easy to attach a patch with personality—and baby will love looking at the adorable little animals.

Ball game for one. A brightly colored ball is an excellent creeping incentive for baby. Fun to roll. Fun to follow. Pure joy to catch up with.

Creepers are usually teething . . . and teething will want the comfort that Gerber Teething Biscuits provide. For these specially-baked biscuits are extra-hard and extra-smooth to provide blissful biting satisfaction and blessed relief for tender gums. Made from pleasantly flavored ingredients, they're baked into an easy-to-hold shape. Individually wrapped in cellophane for cleanliness and carrying purposes. Gerber Baby Foods, Fremont, Michigan.

THE REV. AND MRS. DALE C. HOLT

The wedding of Miss Cynthia Ann Carlson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry G. Carlson of Springfield, Mass., and the Rev. Dale C. Holt, son of Mrs. Elmer J. Holt of Lincoln and the late Rev. Holt, took place Saturday afternoon, June 27, at Bethesda Lutheran Church in Springfield. The lines of the 2 o'clock service were read by the Rev. Charles V. Bergstrom, assisted by the Rev. Theodore Forsberg of St. Paul's Church, East Longmeadow, Mass.

As her sister's maid of honor, Miss Linda Carlson wore a full-skirted frock of pale pink silk organza accented by a fitted midriff applied in white. A matching head bandeau completed her costume, and she carried pink and blue-tinted tea roses. The bridesmaids, Miss Catherine Wilder, Mrs. John Noe and Miss Sandra Vane, wore identical ensembles in aqua.

Dennis Holt served his brother as best man, and seating the guests were John Noe, Max Anderson and Reuben Carlson.

The bride appeared in a gown of white silk organza. Floral appliques of lace, dotted with tiny pearls, framed the portrait neckline and formed the abbreviated sleeves of the basque bodice, and the applique motif was repeated on the wide skirt which extended into a chapel train. Her illusion veil was held by a Swedish coronet of pearls, and she carried a white Bible ornamented with a white orchid and roses.

A reception at the church was followed by a wedding dinner at the Wayside Inn. After a wedding trip through northern New England, the couple will reside at Leesburg, Fla.

The bride is a former student at the American International College, Springfield, Mass. A graduate of Gustavus Adolphus College, St. Peter, Minn., and Augustana Theological Seminary, Rock Island, Ill., the Rev. Mr. Holt was ordained into the ministry in June.

Dear Abby . . .

Some People Never Learn! Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: All my friends think I am nuts but, Abby, I can't live without this woman. We were married and divorced twice. We are apart now and I can't stand it. I support her and her son by a former marriage. I give her more than the Court ordered, but that doesn't matter. She can have everything I own.

She says she doesn't want to live with me because she feels no love for me. But I don't care. I would live like a brother to her just to be near her. Am I crazy for wanting to marry her again on her terms, which are separate bedrooms with a lock on her door?

CRAZY FOR HER

DEAR ABBY: I would never advise marriage under the circumstances. To go through the sacrament of a marriage ceremony and live as sister and brother (with a lock on her door, yet) is to make a mockery of marriage. Why not rent her a room in your home and pay all her bills?

DEAR ABBY: I telephoned a friend of mine and made arrangements to visit her one afternoon at her home. I never stay more than an hour because while my time is my own, many of my friends have busy lives.

Not five minutes after I arrived, her telephone rang. It was her sister. My hostess stayed on the telephone talking sheer nonsense for thirty-five minutes by the clock. I sat there like a wooden Indian all the while. She made no apologies. Now, what would you have done in a case like that?

PUT OUT

DEAR PUT: I would have concluded that my "hostess" cared very little for my company. And in the future I would offer it sparingly — if at all.

DEAR ABBY: When I was born I weighed 13 pounds. I gave my mother a terrible time. She lived, but my father died. I am the youngest of 9 children and have a chance to get a job. But I hate to leave mother alone. I quit school last year (I am 17) to stay home and care for her as she takes dizzy spells.

My brothers and sisters say I have to stay home and take care of Mamma forever because I am the one who made her sick in the first place. I think I am entitled to a life of my own but don't know how I will ever have one. Please help me. I pray every night but God doesn't hear me.

WANTING TO LIVE

DEAR WANTING: Your brothers and sisters have as much responsibility toward your mother as you have. Since you are the youngest in your family, you are probably too timid to stand up for your rights, so ask your clergyman to help you speak your piece. Arrangements can (and should) be made for you to have a life of your own.

DEAR ABBY: My husband's boss and his wife invited us over for an evening. My niece is being married and since her father works for the same company, the boss and his wife received an invitation to the wedding. The boss' wife said, "What do you think Harriet wants for a wedding present?" I said, "I don't know, but if you give her the money she can buy what she wants." My husband told me later that he wanted to sink through the floor. Don't you think my answer was all right? What would you have answered?

PUZZLED

DEAR PUZZLED: I would have simply replied, "I will be glad to find out for you."

If you have a problem, write to Abigail Van Buren in care of this paper. She will be glad to answer your letter. For a personal reply, enclose a self-addressed envelope.

Marriage Announced

MRS. KENNETH HUNT

The marriage of Miss Barbara DeBold of Riviera, Calif., to Kenneth Hunt, son B. Hunt of Lincoln is being announced this morning by the bride's parents. The

Are Your Eyes "In Jail"?

Two many women put their eyes "in jail," says a cosmetics expert.

"Women must learn to highlight their eyes, to open the window, to let their eyes dominate the face. It is through them that the expression comes. Remember, in meeting a woman you have to look at her eyes. But so many women unknowingly put their eyes in jail," said Morton Edell, 50, president of a cosmetics firm.

How can you tell if your blinkers are in the clinker? "If you don't wear make-up or if you don't apply it properly," Edell said in an interview. "Everything in make-up must be geared to build up and spotlight the eyes. If you're not trained in putting on make-up by the time you're 30, you'll be an old woman."

Edell has worked with movie stars, and designed cosmetics especially for studios. Formerly a drug salesman, he studied nutrition and chemistry and developed a vitamin pill. Which made him a millionaire.

He suggested the following beauty aids:

Wear mascara (lightly, please), eyebrow pencil, eye liner, and eye shadow.

—Go to a make-up expert, read up on the subject, or "use logic" for best results, he said.

—Be sure your hair is styled to play up your eyes.

—Get plenty of rest, including a daily nap.

—Add vitamins to your diet, especially B-complex vitamins which are "the best insurance for a long, healthy life."

"Women generally fall into five traps as far as make-up is concerned," Edell said. "First is the mirror. Relying on it is the biggest mistake because we see only one side of ourselves, the side we want to see, not the objective, overall picture as others see us."

"Second is habit. This indicates age — our refusal to accept change. A woman must be adaptable."

"Third is bad interpretation of fashion. Don't dive into a style because it's current. Adapt it to suit your own needs."

"Fourth is the limitation of movie stars. Stop trying to be Monroe, Mansfield or Bardot. Be an individual — your self."

"Fifth — men. When a man notices you're made up, you've done it wrong."

Stepfather Admits Firing Fatal Shot

Lewellen, Neb. — Ernest Earl Gibbs, 34, of North Platte died Tuesday after he was struck under the right arm by a charge from a double-barreled 12-gauge shotgun.

Keith County Attorney Firmin Q. Feltz said Art Hunnel, 63, admitted he fired the shot after Gibbs refused to leave Hunnel's cabin. Gibbs was Hunnel's stepson.

No charges were filed immediately.

'Bled To Death'

Gibbs was dead when Dr. H. L. Cowan of Lewellen arrived at the cabin camp at 6:10 a.m. The shooting occurred about 5:30 o'clock. The doctor said he believed Gibbs bled to death.

The shooting was at Art's Lodge, operated by Hunnel and his wife, about half a mile north of the north shore of Lake McConaughy at the Otter Creek State Recreation Grounds some 9 miles east of here.

Hunnel said Mr. and Mrs. Gibbs had "jumped" him Monday night and injured his hip.

The stepfather said Gibbs entered the kitchen of Hunnel's cabin Tuesday morning, and refused to stop when ordered to do so by Hunnel. The elderly man said Gibbs advanced into the living room and Hunnel shot him.

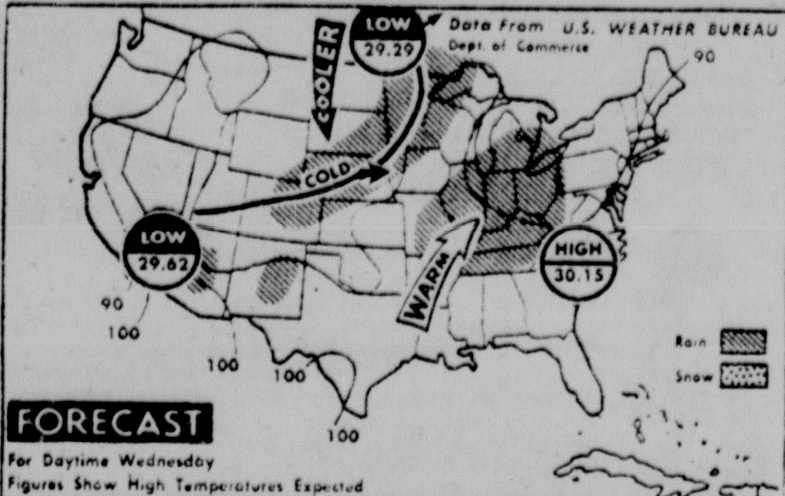

Hunnel told Feltz he had told his wife to get Gibbs and his wife off the place.

Mrs. Gibbs, 36, the former Mary Esther Runner of North Platte, was married to the victim July 19.

Hunnel was held in jail Tuesday afternoon while authorities questioned others in the case.

Hunnel had lived in the Oshkosh-Lewellen area about 50 years and operated Art's Lodge for 9 years.

Manslaughter Filed Against Martin

Auburn, Neb. (UPI) — A charge of manslaughter was filed in Nemaha County Court Tuesday against Truman Martin, 69-year-old blind pensioner in connection with the fatal shooting Sunday of Roy Trayer, 40.

Nemaha County Attorney Donald Stanley said Martin waived preliminary hearing and was bound over to District Court. Bond was set at $5,000.

Martin admitted in a statement to Sheriff George F. Kelley that he fired a .22 caliber rifle in Trayer's direction after he had argued with the farm hand and ordered him off his property.

Martin said he fired 7 or 8 shots. One struck and killed Trayer as he stood in Martin's garden, the County attorney said.

Scottsbluff Bond Issue To Bring 3.31% Interest

Scottsbluff, Neb. (P) — Scottsbluff will pay 3.31% interest on a $100,000 water improvement bond issue sold here compared with 2.65% on a pavement district issue sold only two months ago. Stearn Brothers of Kansas City bought the water bonds.

Power Hike Procedure Brings Attack From NPPD Managers

Beatrice, Neb. — "Our big objection concerns procedure," declared Lester Trussell, general manager of Norris Public Power District, in explaining his group's opposition to the proposed wholesale power rate hike issued by D. J. DeBoer, Nebraska Public Power System general manager.

"The difference of opinion lies between the NPPS board of managers and DeBoer," Trussell stated.

"Instead of submitting rate adjustments first to the board of managers, DeBoer took it upon himself to send it to the customers, bypassing the board," declared Trussell.

"We are objecting to the principle," Trussell said, "we cannot determine whether the increase is proper or improper without having the figures before us."

The NPPS board of managers claim DeBoer exceeded his authority in increasing the rate schedule on contracts NPPS has with 26 customers (including Norris) that are to go into effect Sept. 1.

Trussell said the 35-year power contracts with NPPS provide that if there should be a need for adjustments in rates each "requirements" customer should receive a report on the needs, then would have 30 days in which to study the report and file objection, if the customer thought the adjustment proposal violated the contract.

"What DeBoer has done is not in conformance with the provisions of the contracts, does not recognize the function of the NPPS board of managers in rate matters, and is an attempt to use dictator-type tactics in administering public power business in Nebraska public agencies," Trussell declared.

New Pro Football Loop To Begin Action In '60

6 Cities To Have Teams In League

Washington (AP)—A new pro football loop plans to start operating in 6 cities next year, commissioner Bert Bell of the National Football League said Tuesday.

Bell gave out this word while testifying before the Senate antimonopoly subcommittee in favor of legislation to give professional football, baseball, basketball and hockey board exemption from the antitrust laws.

This football development came a day after an announcement in New York that a 3rd major baseball league expects to be in business in 1961.

Bell said the NFL welcomes new leagues — "the more teams and the more competition the better."

The NFL commissioner said he had checked with owners of all 12 teams in his league and that the idea hadn't met a single objection.

The NFL, 40 years old this season, is the only major pro football league operating in the United States. There have been attempts in the past to form separate major circuits, but none succeeded for very long.

Bell declined to say who is behind the new league. But he testified that Davey O'Brien of Fort Worth, Tex., had broached the matter with him. O'Brien was a grid star at Texas Christian in pre-World War II days.

O'Brien was described by Bell as a go-between, without any financial or other connections with the projected new league.

In talking with newsmen later, the NFL chief said the league's backers have plenty of money. He said O'Brien is bringing 3 men who are involved to see him, perhaps in Philadelphia or Atlantic City.

According to the information he has, Bell said, the new league plans to begin play in 6 cities in 1960 and to expand later to two additional cities.

Houston, Denver and Minneapolis were listed by Bell as certain starters. He said he is pretty sure the other 3 will be Dallas, New York and Los Angeles. Other cities mentioned for possible inclusion, he added, are Boston, Buffalo, Louisville, Miami, Seattle and San Francisco.

Bank Shot Off Adams Wins Bout

... For Germans

The Master Race conquered the Sons of the Rising Sun, but it took a bank shot off Referee Jerry Adams, to turn the trick Tuesday night in the first summer wrestling show at Pershing Auditorium.

With a roaring crowd of over 2,200 strongly partisan in favor of the German duo of Hans Schmidt and Baron Otto Von Krupp, the slippery Jap team of Tosh Toga and Mitsu Arikawa were disqualified by Adams to climax one of the finest mat shows to grace the Pershing Arena.

Each team copped a fall before the Germans commenced a bit of table-turning. Schmidt by rubbing some Japanese salt in the eyes of both of his opponents. Then the gigantic Hun tried stacking the Japs in the corner for head-to-stomach fun.

Finally Hans took to bouncing off the ropes, drop-kicking the Japs and thereby gained the decision. On one of his leaps, Arikawa pulled Ref Adams in front of him and Hans booted Jerry to the mat. When he recovered his senses, he signaled the time-keeper and ruled the Japs were disqualified.

Von Krupp applied the cruncher on Arikawa in 10 minutes of the second fall after a thorough round of rough stuff. Toga used the ropes and a body slam to topple Von Krupp in the opening fall which featured the entwining

Bees Send Chiefs To Last Place

... Cop Twin Bill

Lincoln Star Special
Burlington, Ia. — Burlington's Bees — sole occupants of the Three-I League's basement since the outset of the second half—handed over the dubious distinction to Lincoln's slump-ridden Chiefs during a doubleheader sweep here Tuesday night while Lincoln dropped its 7th and 8th straight contests 5-1 and 7-5.

The Chiefs, who lost all 6 of a disastrous road trip, blew a 5-run lead in the nightcap as 3 Bees hurlers combined to pitch shutout relief over the last 8½ innings.

Righthander Ron Bloodworth of perfect-game fame took the loss in relief of Bryant Waddell, who departed after a good clobbering in the first 3 innings.

Pinch-hitter Ken Lindley's two-base blow off Bloodworth in the Bees' 4th put Burlington back into the contest, the blow scoring Bees Ralph Holding and Perry Noun to pare the Burlington deficit to 5-3. The Bees crept a run closer in the 5th, then exploded with the winning tallies after two were down in the 8th.

Jack Evans' booming triple to right field was the big blow. It scored teammates Ken Fisher and Don Davis who had singled their ways on and gave the Bees a 6-5 edge.

Horace Ingram then drove across an insurance run with a ground-ball single to center.

Lincoln kayoed rookie righthander Bob Graham in the first inning. Feature blow of the 5-run frame was Mike Hersherberger's home run with mate aboard, Jim Lynn walked, then Pug Williamson.

Bees righthander Jim Brewer made his farewell performance a happy one in the 7-inning opener, limiting the Chiefs to 3 hits for a 5-1 win.

Hemus Dares Umpire To Ask For Reprimand

Cincinnati (AP)—Solly Hemus declared here Tuesday the latest of his 6 ejections by National League umpires is the last straw and he virtually dared umpire Stan Landes to recommend a fine or suspension.

The fiery little St. Louis Cardinal manager — ejected by Landes after just 13 minutes of action Monday night — asserted Landes was out of shape and "can't move off a dime."

Hemus vowed his ejection was all a mistake—that a remark he intended for pitcher Vinegar Bend Mizell and not for Landes caused it. General Manager Bing Devine and catcher Hal Smith backed him up.

"Landes was the first to use profanity when he yelled to our dugout," said the incensed Hemus.

"As I walked past Hal Smith, I told him to 'make him bear down,' referring to Mizell. Landes thought I was referring to him and said, 'You're out of the game.'"

Devine said: "It was the most ridiculous ejection I've seen."

Hemus has fought a losing battle in his jousts with National League umpires in his freshman season. He was fined $250 and suspended for 5 days after a hopping-mad protest involving a foul tip in a game with the Los Angeles Dodgers July 2 in St. Louis.

Confident of no recrimination from the league office this time, Solly blasted Landes and the umpiring set-up. Said Hemus of Landes: "I think it's a disgrace to professional umpiring to have a man so out of shape. He's close to 300 pounds, can't move off a dime, can't see the plays. Why, he weighs 10 pounds less than a horse."

... Move To 4th Place

Kansas City (AP)—Kansas City's Athletics rocketed to their 9th consecutive victory here Tuesday night and moved into the American League's first division as Johnny Kucks pitched a 6-1 decision over the Washington Senators.

The victory skein is the longest in the major leagues this year.

The Athletics, who were mired in last place less than two weeks ago, moved into 4th place a half-game ahead of the New York Yankees, and only half a game behind the Baltimore Orioles.

Kucks, who chucked a 5-hitter, was the winner over Camillo Pascual, who had tormented the Athletics with 4 victories and no defeats previously this season.

Four of the Washington hits went to Jim Lemon, who hit his 23rd home run in the second inning for the Senators' only score.

The Athletics won the game in the first inning when Pascual walked the bases full after retiring the first two batters. A single by Kent Hadley and a double by Harry Chiti plated 4 runs.

That was enough to plaster the 9th defeat of the year on Pascual, the Washington ace righthander who has won 11. The victory was Kucks' 5th. He has lost 6 games.

Roger Maris, with one hit in 3 times at bat, held his league-leading average at .344 while Gene Woodling of Baltimore dropped off the pace by going hitless in two trips at Detroit.

A crowd of 12,236 watched the surging Athletics win their 13th game in their last 15 starts.

Stuart ... chats with Police Sgt. Robere McHaney after surrendering to warrant charging non-support.

STU'S SUPPORT MONEY TARDY

Los Angeles (AP)—Pittsburgh's slugging first baseman Dick Stuart arrived in town Tuesday and was charged in a warrant with failure to provide for his two children.

Stuart insisted "the whole thing is a misunderstanding." He said a check for the support of his children is en route to his former wife, who now lives in Santa Ana. In fact, he said, he has sent an advance payment of one month, as well.

The Pirate slugger voluntarily surrendered at the Hall of Justice and posted $1,000 bail. The warrant was issued by the Orange County Judicial District Court.

Stuart said either he or his lawyer, a Max Gillan, will go to Santa Ana within the next 10 days to straighten out the matter.

Passers Sparkle In Browns' Drill

Cleveland (AP)—Quarterbacks Jim Ninowski and Milt Plum both sparkled in the Cleveland Browns' passing drill at training camp Tuesday.

The standouts on the receiving end were veterans Billy Howton, acquired from Green Bay; Frank Clarke and rookie Gene Cook of Toledo University.

Warren Lahr, the veteran defensive corner back, switched to the safety position in the workout.

Chicago Turns Back NY, 4-3

... Sox Take AL Lead

Chicago (AP)—Al Smith's two-run homer in the 8th inning carried Billy Pierce and Chicago to a 4-3 victory over the New York Yankees Tuesday night and gave the White Sox sole possession of the American League lead, a half game ahead of Cleveland.

Pierce picked up his 12th triumph against 11 defeats and helped his own cause with a pair of singles, one of which blossomed into the lead run in the 5th inning.

Smith, whose homer in the 9th inning last Friday helped Pierce defeat Baltimore 2-1, drove his 10th round tripper off the upper deck facade in left field off Yankee starter Ralph Terry after Nellie Fox had singled in the 8th.

Until Smith's homer, it was touch-and-go for the Sox who had worked their way into a 2-1 lead in the 5th inning on a single by Pierce, a wild pitch and a single by Fox, who had 3 hits for the night.

Pierce scattered 10 Yankee hits and squirmed out of a 4th inning jam when New York smacked two doubles and two singles but scored one run.

Chicago loaded the bases with none out in the first but scored only one run as Sherm Lollar hit into a double play.

Malzone Pokes Beat Tribe 8-4

... Indians Take Opener, 5-2

Cleveland (P) — A pair of big home runs by Frank Malzone and Pete Runnels powered the last-place Boston Red Sox to an 8-4 triumph that knocked Cleveland out of first place in the American League here Tuesday night. The Indians won the opener of a two-night double header 5-2.

The Red Sox spotted Cleveland a 3-0 first-inning lead in the nightcap, then came on to win easily. Malzone hit his 13th homer with two on in the 4th inning. Runnels' two-run homer in the 5th gave Boston a 5-4 lead, and the Sox added 3 more runs for insurance in the 7th inning.

With Chicago beating New York 4-3, the Indians fell a half-game behind the White Sox in the hectic pennant chase.

Bill Monbouquette (3-3) went 8 innings for the Red Sox in winning the nightcap. He was hit hard only in the first inning. Billy Martin hit a lead-off inside-the-park home run, a drive that bounced past right fielder Jackie Jensen. Singles by Vic Power and Rocky Colavito and Tito Francona's double produced two more runs.

The only other Cleveland run came in the 4th inning when Francona doubled and scored on George Strickland's single. That put the Indians ahead 4-3, but Runnels' home run following a single by Pumpsie Green turned the tide.

The Indians wrapped up the first game triumph by scoring all 5 runs in the 4th inning on 4 hits. They chased starter Frank Sullivan, who also yielded two walks in that frame.

The big blows were a two-run homer by Jim Baxes, his 11th, a run-scoring double by Colavito and Strickland's single, which knocked in two more runs.

Big Northern Is Top Catch For The Week

Walleye fishing in Maloney (Lincoln County) and McConaughy (Keith County) reservoirs produced the top angling thrills, but Memphis State Lake (Saunders County), in the eastern part of the state, stole some of the thunder, the Nebraska Game Commission has reported in its weekly roundup.

A 15-year-old angler, Jerry Johnson of Ashland, came up with the week's biggest catch—a 16 pound northern pike taken at Memphis. The youngster was using a spinning rod with crawfish for bait.

Conservation Officer Loron Bunney of Ogallala reports walleye fishing at McConaughy "going just as well as in June, the month we generally consider the best." C. A. Bradley, North Platte, had two fine catches, 6 and 4 pounds.

White bass enthusiasts were also faring well at McConaughy. Al Herrod did battle with a 2-pound, 9-ounce white bass. Bass running small according to Bunney, but can be taken in good numbers.

Conservation Officer Sam Grasmick of North Platte said that Maloney has been turning out some good walleyes, particularly at the inlet. Clifford Gerwell, North Platte, paced the parade with a 6<sup>3</sup>/<sub>4</sub>-pounder.

Mossi's 3-Hitter Stops Birds, 8-3

Detroit (P) — Don Mossi's 3-hit pitching and wildness on the part of Baltimore moundsmen gave the Detroit Tigers an 8-3 triumph over the Orioles Tuesday night before 21,446.

Mossi gave up a two-run homer to Willie Tasby in the first inning, then yielded only a 5th inning single to Billy Gardner and a 6th inning double to Chico Carrasquel.

He retired the last 12 batters in succession gaining his 9th victory against 4 losses.

The Tigers knocked out Hoyt Wilhelm before the Oriole knuckleballer could complete 3 innings. Wilhelm gave up a two-run home run in the first inning to Neill Chrissy, substituting for injured right fielder Harvey Kuenn. The Tigers added another in the second and piled up 4 more runs in the 3rd.

Wilhelm got himself into trouble with a walk and two singles. Relief pitcher Jack Fisher gave up two walks and retired no one. Ex-Tiger Billy Hoelt gave up another walk before retiring the side.

Detroit added a final run in the 7th before Hoelt departed. Wilhelm was a loser for the 7th time in his last 8 starts. He started the season with 9 victories in a row.

Fur Trappers Got 112,261 Last Season

Trappers harvested 112,261 furs in Nebraska last season, the State Game Commission has announced.

The Commission said a recent survey showed the animals trapped included such bounty species as bobcat, coyote and fox. Muskrats led by furnishing 83,294 pelts. This was 74.2 per cent of the total fur harvest.

Raccoon ranked second with 7,862 pelts, the mink next with 7,120, beaver 6,705, skunks 2,067, opossums 1,885, civets 491, badgers 213 and weasels 115.

America hasn't enjoyed beer like this in over 50 years!

For this is the Original Pabst Blue Ribbon, brewed just like the beer acclaimed the nation's best at the Columbian Exposition in 1893. This is the beer grandfather was talking about when he extolled that good old-time beer flavor. Compare it with any modern beer and you'll understand why Pabst brought back the Original.

Nebraska Farm Families Eyed By 'Iffies'

By George Moyer
Did you ever meet an "Iffy?"
They are nice people. They come from almost anywhere; they are generally young (20-30), and they are all interested in the United States, its problems, methods and goals and how these will apply to them.
An "Iffy" is the nickname earned by a foreign student participating in the International Farm Youth Exchange sponsored by the 4-H and FFA. Or, if you prefer alphabet soup, their title is IFYE'S. Currently, there are 100 "Iffies" gathered at the University of Nebraska Ag Campus for the 6th annual mid-point meeting of the group. They will remain until Sunday discussing their experiences, accumulated during a 4-6 months stay with an American farm family.

Whizzing 'Bullets'
This process is likely to send conversational "bullets" on international affairs, American customs, education and farm problems whizzing around casually gathered discussion groups.
For instance, Louis Werner of Chile opined that America was a country of "corn, cars and crazy people."
Qualifying his statement, Werner said: "In my country, everybody does things the slow, easy way. In the United States it is hurry, hurry all the time. You even hurry when you enjoy something."

Different Families
"Of course," Rodney Dodd of New Zealand said, "part of this might be because we live with different farm families. A family having a guest come into their home will rush around trying to let him see as much as possible and then you get the idea they hurry more than they do."
The consensus of the 9 conversationalists, however, was that America is a nation that hurries too much.
But Gonzales Catan of the Philippines put the capper on the argument, saying, "It is still better to have the problem of people hurrying too much than to have a problem when it is hard to wake people into any kind of hurry."
From there the conversation strayed to juvenile delinquency. The group thought that the juvenile problem in the United States was caused by the large amount of leisure time enjoyed by American young people.

A Pleasure Here
"You know, it is a pleasure to go to school here," Werner said. "Only 5 days a week and I never had to do any homework."
The delinquency problem is exaggerated abroad, however, the group decided, mostly because of American movies.
"They don't give us a true picture of American life," M. Naem Poutt of Pakistan said. "When I was in Chicago, I expected a gangster or delinquent on every corner. Actually, it's a very nice town."
The argument over American education arose when Werner said that the average American 15-year-old did not know as much as the average European or South American 15-year-old with comparable schooling.

Dodd countered by saying he knew more, but they both agreed that American students aren't extended enough in high school.
"There is so much more they could learn in high school if they were extended. The curriculum is a little weak by our standards," Dodd said.
But one of the top comments on the American way of life was the contribution of Tom Neilson of Scotland:

A bonny lass and a bit of humor bring smiles to the faces of IFYE's at lunch in the Food and Nutrition Building cafeteria at the University of Nebraska Ag Campus. From left to right are: Gwilyn Williams, Wales; Dominic Lay, staff member of the sponsoring 4-H Club Foundation, Washington, D.C.; Dwain Trenkle, NU ag college extension service; Rodney Dodd, New Zealand; Sheenadh Watson, Scotland; and Ian Coleman, New Zealand. (Star Staff Photo)

"When I came here, I didn't see why Americans wore their hair so short—boys and girls both. But I went into a barber shop the other day and they said $2 for a haircut. I think if I were staying here very long, I'd wear my hair short too—you could go 6 weeks before it grew out enough for another haircut."

New York (AP) — Oil shares rumped ahead sharply in a spotty stock market advance Tuesday.

Despite the market's high tone, many leading issues suffered steep losses. Pivotal shares shifted from fractions to two points or better.

Many metals, chemicals, rails and tobacco stocks skipped higher. But motors, rubbers, aircrafts and drugs generally retreated. A number of electronics sagged sharply.

The market worked steadily higher in early trading, but afternoon selling late in the day managed to ride out the skimming.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks climbed 30 cents to $23.60, with the industrials up $1.00 to a new high of $35.90, the rails up 40 cents and the utilities down 20 cents.

The Dow Jones industrial index added 2.36 to a record 672.04.

All 3,190,000 shares changed hands against 2,910,000 Monday.

Of 1,228 issues traded, 505 gained and 499 fell. New 1950 highs were set by 60 stocks and new lows by 9 stocks.

Ten of the 15 most actively traded issues traded around, two dropped and three ended unchanged.

In stock bond dealings, U.S. government bonds leaned lower while corporates closed mixed.

Bond sales totaled $5,600,000 par value.

AP COMMODITY INDEX

New York (AP)—The Associated Press weighted wholesale price index of 35 commodities declined to 157.13.

Clashes Renewed At Youth Festival

... Americans Squabble Over Accreditation

Vienna (UPI)—Clashes broke out Tuesday between Communist guards and Western newsmen trying to cover the Red-run 7th World Youth Festival here.

The new incidents followed police disclosure that Arab and Israeli delegates to the festival had battled with knives Monday night in a Vienna restaurant. Some minor injuries were reported.

The festival, first to be held outside the Iron Curtain, also was marred by a drawn-out squabble of two rival American factions and a campaign of Austrian groups determined to demonstrate the Communist character of the festival sponsorship.

Rites Wednesday For L. C. Noyes

Waterloo, Neb.—Funeral services for Lawrence C. Noyes, 61, lifelong resident of Waterloo, will be held at the Presbyterian Church here at 2 p.m. Wednesday. He died while he and his wife were vacationing at Park Rapids, Minn.

He spent his life farming in the Elkhorn River Valley. A graduate of the University of Nebraska, he was a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity.

Surviving are his wife, Louise; a son, Clark of Waterloo; two brothers and a sister.

MRS. NIXON

APPLAUDED AT STYLE SHOW

Novosibirsk, Soviet Union. —Mrs. Richard M. Nixon was whisked from the airport to watch a Siberian fashion show Tuesday. Buyers were here from as far away as the east coast port of Vladivostok to see designs made from Novosibirsk materials.

It was an unusual setting. Russia's more modern fashions were displayed indoors before the vice president's wife, while outside people gathered in their work clothes. The women wore plain print dresses, skirts and blouses, low-heeled shoes, even some rugged boots for the muddy streets.

Mrs. Nixon and the reporters who accompany her were applauded as they entered the room where about 50 people, including a few men, were seated.

Mrs. Nixon drew pleased smiles when she said she had seen the Russian fashion exhibit in New York and thought both the clothes and the models were beautiful.

Outside as she left, Mrs. Nixon ran into a crowd of several hundred dressed nothing like the models inside. There were men, women and children to tell them, "Good luck." And they called her "Good luck" in return.

... By House Judiciary Committee

Washington (AP)—Republicans and Southern Democrats united Tuesday in throwing out a proposal to give the Justice Dept. broad injunction powers in civil rights cases.

The proposal, urged by advocates of stronger civil rights legislation, was beaten 18-13 in the House Judiciary Committee. It met behind closed doors for section-by-section consideration of a new bill in this field.

At almost the same time, Sen. Thomas C. Hennings (D-Mo) moved in the senate to attach a similar injunction clause to a bill providing civil rights forces so far have been unable to pry out of the Senate Judiciary Committee.

Chairman Emanuel Celler (D-NY) of the House committee said he could understand the motives of Dixie Democrats in fighting the injunction proposal, "but the lack of logic of the Republican members is past understanding."

Celler, chief sponsor of the proposal, hung the blame on President Eisenhower for the setback, saying:

"This defection (of Republicans) is traceable to the White House from which no leadership is forthcoming. Apparently, the President desires a mere lukewarm approach to integration."

Celler's proposal would allow the U.S. attorney to seek Federal Court injunctions in support of all types of civil rights. Two years ago—when

2 Pacifists Will

Return To Mead

Omaha (AP)—Two Omaha Action pacifists made it clear Tuesday they want to go to jail.

Mrs. Marjorie S. Swann distributed a copy of a letter written to Federal District Judge Richard E. Robinson which said she and Wilber Young planned to visit the Mead missile base in violation of a court order.

Mrs. Swann, of Treviso, Pa., was charged with trespassing for trying to go over the fence and enter the base. Judge Robinson Monday sentenced Mrs. Swann to 6 months in prison and fined her $500, but suspended both.

He also continued Young's probation though the 71-year-old Wallingford, Pa., man had been picked up at the missile site after a previous court order to stay out.

The letter Tuesday said Mrs. Swann and Young would return to the missile site Wednesday to continue a vigil there.

Speedway Firm Gets Night Switch

Lincoln Speedways Inc. was given permission Tuesday by the Lancaster County Board to hold their races at the Capitol Beach track on Saturday nights instead of Friday nights.

Speedways president Robert Lundberg asked for the switch because he said Saturday night attendance would be better.

Sunset Party House operator J. L. Stroud opposed the change in nights. He told the Board it would create a parking problem at Capitol Beach.

GENEVA—

5-Year Freeze Urged

New Berlin Truce Plan Proposed By The West

Geneva (AP)—The Western allies Tuesday night proposed a series of new arrangements for Berlin as part of a 5-year deal to freeze the East-West crisis in that disputed city.

The United States, Britain and France offered to join the Soviet Union in a review of the Berlin situation after 5 years if Germany remains divided at that time.

This represented the West's first formal acceptance of the idea of a time-limited arrangement for Berlin. And perhaps even the 5-year period will become a subject of negotiation.

Secretary of State Christian A. Herter and his British and French colleagues had turned thumbs down on an 18-month freeze advocated by Soviet foreign minister Andrei A. Gromyko.

NASSER AWAILS ISRAELI BATTLE

Cairo (UPI)—United Arab Republic President Gamal Abdel Nasser said the U.A.R. is ready for a showdown with Israel.

"We are awaiting the decisive battle," Nasser said in a speech in Egypt.

Burglary Charge

Draws Guilty Plea

Rodney A. Hulett of 630 So. 10th pleaded guilty to a burglary charge Tuesday in Lancaster District Court.

Judge John Polk deferred sentencing the 21-year-old man and committed him to County Jail pending a presentence investigation.

Hulett's brother, Roger, 22, and Charles Daugherty, 26, also of Lincoln, pleaded guilty Monday to burglary charges. All 3 are charged with burglarizing the Wismer Mobil Service Station in Firth the night of July 23.

Western Supply Co. Incorporates

Articles of incorporation authorizing capital stock of $1 million were filed Tuesday by Western Supply Co. of Lincoln, Lincoln's oldest wholesale plumbing and heating supply house.

The business, founded as a partnership in 1895, was formed by William Selleck, his brother-in-law, John D. Horton and R. H. Rathburne.

Officers of the new corporation are John K. Selleck, president; Mrs. Marjorie Selleck, vice president, and John D. Phillips, secretary.

Another Lincoln firm, Nebraska Plumbing Supply Co., also filed articles of incorporation with the Secretary of State's office. Incorporators were Julius Goldberg of Lincoln and R. C. Richart and P. E. Hartigan, both of Kansas City, Mo. Capital stock was authorized at $1,000.

Moscow 'Duster' Receives U.S. Attention

...Hurry-Up Floorwork Under Way

Moscow (UPI) — American exhibition officials Tuesday arranged for a $21,600 asphalt flooring job to keep the big U.S. show here from submerging in a sea of dust.

Reaction To Fair Is Mixed

Moscow (AP) — Most American visitors are pleased with the image of their country being presented to the Russians at the U.S. exhibition here. But the modern art has stirred up a fuss just as it did in Washington.

The consensus gathered by fair officials, correspondents and diplomats is that tourists from the U.S. generally like the displays.

"Better than the one we put on in Brussels," one U.S. visitor told officials.

Lyman Stansky, an attorney from New York City, said he likes the exhibit but some of his Russian lawyer friends don't care for the abstract art. Some of the Americans don't either.

Amateur art critics of both nationalities have termed grotesque the sculpture in the outdoor birch garden.

Another complaint from the Americans is the lack of a restaurant. Soviet authorities said they were not sure U.S. restaurant sanitation would approach Soviet standards.

Canyon Rangers Unable To Locate Missing Youth

Grand Canyon, Ariz. (AP) — National park rangers made little progress Tuesday in a search for a Georgia youth missing since Saturday in a remote area of Grand Canyon.

Tracks were found leading into two branches of Tanner Wash in the eastern part of the gorge. But the footprints, believed made by Mason Owens, 16, of Savannah, disappeared among rocky ledges.

"The search is progressing slowly," said a park service spokesman. "The rangers are working in against sheer cliffs with nothing to guide them."

"Temperatures are from 120 to 125 degrees down there today," he added.

The treacherous trails and searing heat of the canyon claimed the lives of Owens' two companions—the Rev. Eugene A. Cavigan, 30, and Walter J. Mahany Jr., 16, both of Savannah.

The emergency work was ordered for the two main exhibition halls of the fair in Sokolniki Park after the Soviet-laid concrete flooring in both buildings caused dust clouds.

The dust settled over all the exhibits, giving the show the appearance of a dusty attic to the discomfiture of exhibition personnel and the more than 50,000 average daily visitors.

An exhibition director said the asphalt flooring job was beginning at closing time Tuesday night. He hoped it might be completed in two days at the most.

Soviet visitors, meanwhile, were amusing themselves by scrawling "U.S.S.R." in the dust on the American automobiles or dust-writing comments on some of the modern American statuary on view here.
